Rotarians to Observe Anniversary, Give Pins

Circleville Rotarians will observe the eighteenth anniversary of their own club and the thirty-fifth anniversary of the organization of Rotary next Thursday when attendance buttons are presented to various members. The club meets in the American Hotel "Hurricane."

125 YOUNG DEMS AT FIRST CONFAB PRIOR TO RACE

Pickaway County Young Democrats crowded the Common Pleas Courtroom at the Court House Friday night for a "harmony" meeting and membership enrollment drive to precede the coming primary elections and the campaign itself.

"It was essentially a harmony meeting," Dr. E. L. Montgomery, president of the club, said. "Our slogan might well be 'Peace and harmony in the ranks of militant democracy.'"

Joseph Adkins, Circleville attorney, who was appointed as a member of the state executive committee at the state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs in Columbus early in the month, reported to the county organization, on the program and the activities of the state club.

Harriet Mason as secretary-elect when it accepted the resignation from that post of Jane Mader who resigned because of the Hatch bill which prohibits government employees to be actively engaged in politics.

Approximately 125 members were on hand when the meeting started and the number swelled as the evening advanced.

DEATH CHEATED AS PLANE FALLS

Two Injured Men Rescued From Isolated Lake In Canada

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 17—Snatched from almost certain death on the ice of an isolated lake where their Canadian Airways mail plane crashed, two men were confined to a hospital today.

James Noonan, Halifax business man and passenger on the plane which had been missing 36 hours, suffered fractures of the wrist and leg and Pilot James Wade sustained severe cuts when the ship landed on its side of frozen Oak Lake, 25 miles west of Halifax. A plane equipped with skis was used to bring the men here after they had been sighted from the air.

GARNER TO PUT NAME IN RACE ON WEST COAST

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17—Vice President John N. Garner will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president in the California primaries next May. This was announced in Los Angeles today by Zach Lamar Cobb and William R. Wallace, Jr., co-chairman of a statewide Garner organization, who said that Garner had wired them his approval of their plans to enter his name on the primary ballot.

Cobb and Wallace wired Garner that a statewide survey they have been conducting indicated he was "first choice of the rank and file Democrats in California" by even a larger margin than he received in California's vote on the national convention in 1932.

JUDGE MEETS CLERKS OF TWO EDUCATION BOARDS

Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger met with Fred Mitchell and Lloyd White, clerks of the Monroe and Muhlenberg Township School Boards respectively, Saturday, at the Court House to arrive at an equitable accounting of the funds that the Monroe officials spent while the Muhlenberg school was under their jurisdiction.

A recent court order transferred the schools back to Muhlenberg and instructed the Monroe board that an accounting of the Muhlenberg funds be made and that the balance be returned to that school board.

Premier, Foreign Minister Plan London Flight During Week End

HELSINKI, Feb. 17—Fighting with their backs to the main wall of the Mannerheim Line, Finns today planned a dramatic 11th hour appeal to the western democracies to save the republic from destruction.

With practically the whole first line of defense in Russian hands and the city of Viborg threatened, Finland's government arranged, it was understood, to send Premier Risto Ryti and Foreign Minister V. A. Tanner to London today or tomorrow.

Pointing to the imminent collapse of Finland's astounding defense, the statesmen will ask for immediate military aid from Britain and France.

The decision of Ryti and Tanner to fly to London came after a similar trip to Stockholm, where they pleaded in vain for outright assistance by Sweden.

Seven Divisions Used

Using at least seven divisions—about 140,000 men—in direct combat, with the aid of a vast array of 700 tanks, the Russians today concentrated their attempts to break the main Mannerheim Wall at two points—Summa and the Leningrad-Viborg railroad on the western side of the Karelian Isthmus.

Some accounts said the Russians already were in the town of Summa, which was partially leveled by constant artillery fire. But the Finns insisted that all the might of the Red army had failed to wrest the key town from them.

The deepest point reached by the Russians was believed to be about five miles inside the outer defenses of the Mannerheim Line.

A great pall of smoke hung over the flaming Summa front. In many places the Finns were not able to see the Russians, but only hear their cries and shots as the Reds advanced to the attack.

Finland's second largest city, the port of Viborg, was imperiled by the second large Russian drive. Moscow claimed capture of Leipaeus and Kaemaerae, two Finnish towns on the Viborg railroad. (A Moscow communication said 22 more Finnish fortifications had been taken, bringing the total to 175 forts since the big push on the (Continued on Page Eight)

Race for Sheriff's Job Draws Many Democrats

Pickaway County is moving gradually toward one of the hottest political races it has seen for some years for any particular office with seven already in the race for the Democratic nomination for sheriff. The seven declared to be "in" the campaign include several who are as yet doubtful, but if all who have petitions file them the campaign will be a real one.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff has announced his decision to run again, and John G. Ward, Jr., who opposed the incumbent the first time he ran, has obtained his petition. Edgar F. Mauger of Washington Township is the first person to file his nominating petition, Lawrence Johnson, clerk of the board, announcing Friday that Mauger's petition had been submitted.

Others who are reported to have petitions, but who have not yet submitted them to the board include Edwin Wilson, Lowell M. Brown, Harry Riffe and Sam Schleich, making seven in all.

If all enter formally—that is, by filing their signed petitions—counties can look for a humdinger of a campaign.

COAST GUARDSMEN SAVE 10 MEN ON FISHING BOAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—Battling rough seas, the coastguard cutter Tahoe took into tow early today the fishing dragger Palmer's Island which, with 10 men aboard, had been buffeted since Wednesday's blizzard with a disabled propeller in the Atlantic.

The Tahoe found the fishing dragger, which radioed yesterday that she needed immediate assistance, about 120 miles south of Block Island, R. I., and now is towing it into New Bedford, Mass. In reporting to headquarters the Tahoe indicated all the dragger's crew were safe but said nothing concerning possible injuries.

G. O. P. TO MEET IN QUAKER CITY

Philadelphia Selected As Convention City; Open Contest Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—Republican leaders, after voting for a June 24 national convention in Philadelphia, today predicted the most wide-open race in the party's history for the G. O. P. presidential nomination.

While Republican national committeemen insisted that the choice of Philadelphia at their meeting yesterday had no political significance, they believed that Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio had the most delegates pledged to date, with District Attorney Thomas Dewey of New York and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan running close behind.

One party leader said, however, that he doubted whether any of the three had 200 delegates he could absolutely command. It was voted at the meeting yesterday to allow 1,000 delegates at the convention. As a result, there was a big bloc of delegates still open, including those who will vote for "favorite sons" on the first ballot. Because of that, the most lively voting in convention history was in prospect at Philadelphia.

Taft was reported gaining strength in the South. Offsetting that as far as the Dewey camp was concerned was the New Yorker's new found support in the (Continued on Page Eight)

BRUNETTE FILM ACTRESS FREE OF HUSBY'S FAMILY

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17—Roselind Keith, girlish brunette screen actress, was free of marital bonds today. She was granted a divorce from Clarence Mellor, studio cameraman.

"I don't feel I am divorcing my husband so much as I am divorcing his family," she told the judge who granted her the decree. "He was very spasmodic in his affections to say the least. One moment he would be very loving, and the next cruel and cold."

"He had been living with his mother and sister for 36 years before our marriage last March. They exerted great influence over him. He would visit them and when he returned, he would accuse me of not loving him and planning to leave him."

Miss Keith, who is 23, separated from her husband three weeks ago.

German "Hell" Boat Stopped, Boarded Off Norway

BERLIN ANGERED

400 Seamen Declare They Were Treated Severely

LONDON, Feb. 17—British destroyers rescued between 300 and 400 merchant seamen from the German "prison ship" Altmark off the western coast of Norway, it was announced today.

Carrying Britons taken from ships sunk during the adventurous career of the Admiral Graf Spee—later scuttled off Montevideo—the Altmark was surprised as she raced down the coast of Norway in an attempt to return to the Reich.

Using her deck guns, the German boat put up some resistance before the destroyers were able to get alongside and take off the prisoners, who are due at a Scottish port today.

The Altmark, it was reported, had a secret armament of three six-inch guns.

(Firing by the Altmark and the British destroyers, one of which was the Intrepid, apparently gave rise to Norwegian accounts of a sea fight yesterday. This episode presumably led to the reported battle today in which, according to Copenhagen dispatches, a German warship of 10,000 to 15,000 tons was sunk or grounded.)

No Trouble Reported

Admiralty representatives at the Scottish port, where the Britons are expected, said the transfer from the Altmark was effected without trouble. They described the destroyers' action as "very fine indeed."

European Bulletins

LONDON—The center of an important gathering of American diplomats, the United States legation at Tallinn, Estonia has been the scene of intense diplomatic activity during the last few days, according to a broadcast of the Moscow official radio, picked up today by Reuters. Present in Tallinn, the radio said, are Laurence A. Steinhardt, ambassador to Russia; Winthrop S. Greene, secretary of the Stockholm legation; and John C. Wiley, minister to Latvia and Estonia.

BERLIN—"Several prisoners were taken by a scouting party southwest of Saarbruecken," the German war communiqué said today. "Sporadic but lively mutual machine gun and rifle fire was heard on the Upper Rhine sector. A German pursuit plane shot down a (British) Bristol-Blenheim plane over the North Sea."

LONDON—Implying that all British merchantmen must be armed, the admiralty today announced that British ships "must provide their personnel with protection against aircraft bombing and machine gun attacks before leaving any United Kingdom port."

HOPE FADES FOR PASSAGE OF TAX BILL IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—The possibility of congress enacting a new tax bill to raise $460,000,000, as suggested by President Roosevelt, faded today as the congressional economy campaign continued and treasury officials grew optimistic over prospect of increased tax payments.

Chairman Doughton of North Carolina of the house ways and means committee, which inaugurates all tax bills, indicated the tax question will be shoved aside.

"It looks like we won't have a tax bill this year," said Doughton, after the house had slashed more than $100,000,000 from the budget estimates for the navy. "I am very hopeful that there will be no necessity for tax increases at this time. I don't know of anyone in congress who is anxious to pass a tax bill."

A canvass of the ways and means committee revealed virtually solid opposition to considering new taxes during a period of rising business. Many members frankly expressed fear that loading a new burden of taxation on business would slow down recovery.

With passage of the naval supply bill, the house had cut more than $300,000,000 under budget estimates in passage of six appropriation bills. Leaders of the "economy bloc" are hopeful of making further savings in bills yet to be considered.

LEGISLATOR COLLAPSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat, was resting comfortably today at Walter Reed Hospital where he was taken last night after collapsing at a banquet of the Reserve Officers Association. The 62 year old legislator recently recovered from influenza. Hospital attendants said his condition is not serious.

PICKAWAY SHADES SCIOTO; NEW HOLLANDERS WIN BOYS' GIRLS' CONTESTS

UNBEATEN TEAM FORCED TO END BY HOGAN CREW

Score Deadlocked When Star Leaves, But Other Boys Carry On To Win

WASHINGTON '5' DRUBBED

Bulldog Lassies Keep Pace To Turn Back Monroe Lassies

Pickaway Pirates, county tournament favorites because of their season's record, came through the second round of the annual competition Friday evening at the Atlanta school by the skin of their respective teeth to move into the semi-final stage of the meet. The Pirates, matched in practically every department by Paul Hogan's battling Scioto Township lads, came through in the last four minutes of their contest to win 38-33.

With four and one-half minutes to play the teams were tied at 32-all and Pickaway had just lost George Wilson, offensive and defensive star, on personal fouls. Things looked bad for Pickaway, but Rhodes and Immelt came through with buckets to keep the Pirates in the van. Warren Beers, splendid center of the Scioto team, left the floor half a minute after Wilson took his exit, weakening the Scioto team just when it appeared that the Commercial Point lads might pull the tournament's biggest upset.

Guards Aid Pirates Ability of the Pickaway guards to hit the net brought the Pirate victory, Immelt and Leist adding 14 points to the winning team's total. Wayne Beavers was Scioto's best with 15 points, Beers getting nine.

New Holland carried off a doubleheader, the Bulldog boys' and girls' teams gaining advantages over Washington Township and Monroe Township, respectively.

The upset of the Washington team surprised many who had expected the losing team to go somewhere, but New Holland put on a drive at the first whistle that didn't stop until the final buzzer sounded. Washington's offensive and defensive setups collapsed before the Bulldog team.

The halftime ended 26-6. Stout was top man for New Holland with 15 points.

New Holland's first substitute entered the game with the score 43-9 and the second team came in with two minutes to play with the score 47-12.

The Bulldog lassies put on a splendid exhibition to turn back the scrappy Monroe girls, 16-13. The game was well played and was close throughout. New Holland leading 10-7 at the half.

Games tonight include Ashville against Deercreek at 7 o'clock. Darby against Ashville girls at 8 o'clock and Monroe against Jackson at 9 o'clock.

VILLANOVA TO MEET 10 MIGHTY GRIDIRON FOES

VILLANOVA, Pa., Feb. 17—Villanova College's grid forces will battle 10 of the finest football machines in the land next season—and top off the campaign with a joust with unbeaten Duquesne, according to Coach Clipper Smith.

Henry Gets Crack At Title

CERFENO Garcia, the Filipino bolo puncher, gives Henry Armstrong a crack at his middleweight championship which is recognized in New York when the two meet in Los Angeles, February 23. The bout will be over the 10-round distance. Should Armstrong win, he would be the only man in history to ever win four crowns.

McKechnie Uses System In Drilling His Stars

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17—Spring training serves two purposes for a major league ball club. It is the period the players use to work themselves into perfect playing condition, and it also is the means of permitting the managers to look at young ball players whose prospective possibilities earn them an opportunity to go to a big league camp.

Bill McKechnie of the Reds has his own peculiar style of conditioning a ball club. His theory in regard to pitchers is different than that of any other manager, for the Deacon has his hurlers start the very first day throwing curves. He reasons that a player should not strengthen the muscles used in throwing fast balls before starting on curves, but should strengthen all muscles simultaneously, thereby reducing to a minimum the possibility of a sore arm.

In past seasons, part of McKechnie's general policy has been to work his prospective regulars in most of the exhibition games. This accounts for the Reds winning the Grapefruit championship in 1938.

Last year, Bill deviated slightly. He asked for more exhibition games and gave the raw recruits a greater opportunity to show what they could do. This proved to be a highly satisfactory procedure and now we find a full spring schedule and an influx of youngsters on the Red roster who are sure to see plenty of service. The early spring won and lost record of the Reds is certain to suffer from permitting the boys to get into action, but, still, it might be the means of developing another Gene Thompson, whose first year lifting achievements last year came in one of the early games when he and Whitey Moore teamed up to pitch a no-hit Grapefruit League game against the Dodgers.

The success McKechnie had with Thompson made him appreciate the merits of his new system, and he asked for a schedule full enough to give the boys an opportunity to play without causing the regulars to go without work. Since he has had such phenomenal success in bringing about youngsters, McKechnie has become so rookie conscious that it is a natural result to have the Redleg roster contain more recruits than usually. He likes veterans when the percentage is with them being an aid, but when there is a gamble to be taken, he prefers to take chances on the youngsters because of their possibilities and length of service always exceeds those of an older who is on the tobbogan. The direction in which a player is going is what counts, thinks the Deacon, so bring on your rookies!

KANSAS RUNNER HOPES TO WIN BAXTER EVENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—Glenn Cunningham—the man with the thinning hair, barrel-like chest and fire-scared legs—will make another determined bid to register his first major victory of the season in the Baxter mile at the N. Y. A. C. games in Madison Square Garden tonight.

A year ago they were calling him the old master, the peerless miler, the runner of the ages, and other extravagant phrases. Today they are saying he is all washed up.

"It's a little tough to be called a has-been," said the Kansan ruefully, "when a fellow can turn in a 4:07.7 mile as I did at the Millrose games."

"I wonder if people realize that that time has been surpassed only three times, outdoors and indoors, in the history of racing?"

"It is not that I have slowed down to any appreciable extent but rather that some of these young fellows like Chuck Penske and Lou Zamperini have come along with a tremendous rush."

"I'm not any slower but they are much faster than they were. Why, that 4:07.7 mile would have made me a winner by at least 50 yards in most of fastest races ever run! And yet all that got me was a second to Chuck Penske's 4:07.4."

"As a matter of fact, I think my average times this year will compare with my races in previous years. Maybe I'll catch these lads tonight."

CROSETTI SIGNS CONTRACT; MANY OTHERS OUTSIDE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—With just a week remaining until the New York Yankees pitch their training camp tents in St. Petersburg, Frankie Crosetti, peppery shortstop, today became the first regular infielder of the three-time world champions to come to terms.

Bringing the number of players signed to 21, Crosetti's contract arrived at the Yankees headquarters along with those of Marjusz Russo, the newly-wed hurler, and George Washburn, a young pitcher from the Yanks' Newark farm club. An even dozen players, including such familiar names as Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon, Bill Dickey, Charley Ruffing, Ellisworth Dahlgren, Red Rolfe and Tommy Henrich, remain unsigned.

DiMaggio, the San Francisco restaurateur, says he wants a cool $40,000 for his most capable home run hitting and picket duty this year. That figure is a far cry from the $27,500 or thereabouts he earned last season. For that reason there is great likelihood he'll miss a portion of the spring training—just as he has, although not always through his own fault, in past seasons.

Several of the unsigned, the Yankee officials assert, will report to camp on time and bring along their signed contracts. (Some players apparently have little or no trust in Jim Farley's couriers.)

DARTMOUTH COACH SAYS CORNELL'S TEAM FINEST

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 17—The Cornell football team could have beaten either of the Rose Bowl teams in the opinion of Coach Earl Blaik of the Dartmouth football forces. Commenting on the play of Southern California and Tennessee on New Year's Day, the Big Green mentor said, "Southern California was deep and powerful, but I believe that Cornell could have beaten either of the Bowl teams because of the greater team speed."

Tigers Take Two-Point Edge Over Oak Hill

RED AND BLACK IN SECOND WIN IN TWO NIGHTS

Harold Smith Connects For 16 Points; Defeat Third For Jackson Team

There is good reason for the fact that Roy Black's hair is becoming a little more gray on top and that it is thinning out considerably. His Circleville High Tigers knocked off another basketball game Friday evening with Oak Hill's fine team as the victim, and the difference in the scores was just two points, the final tally being 38 to 36.

Thursday evening his boys presented to him a 37-35 margin over Grove City. Close scores like these are enough to speed up the heart beat, and the Red and Black has been in its share of close ones this year many times over.

Oak Hill had lost only two contests in 16 starts when the Tiger athletes, somewhat tired from their gruelling Grove City tilt of the night before, started their trek into the Jackson County hill country. The game started fast and continued that way to its end. The Tigers led 14-12 at the end of the first period and 23-20 at halftime. The third period found both teams showing effects of the pace and only eight points were scored, five by Circleville and three by Oak Hill. The last quarter started with Circleville leading 28-23. Oak Hill pulled close in this session, but couldn't quite catch the speedy Red and Black.

Circleville lost Davis on personal in the final half.

Smith Hits for 16

Harold Smith, diminutive forward, was the ace in the Tiger offensive department coming through with 16 points on seven buckets and three free tosses. Davis added nine, all in the first half; Walters hit for four, Boushner for seven and Staley for two. Jenkins, who did not start, was Oak Hill's best, although Dunn, a guard, came through with eight and Silvery, a forward, with six. Silvery missed four consecutive free tosses in the last half to help the Tiger cause.

The victory gives the Red and Black nine victories and eight defeats so far for the season. The Alumni will be met Tuesday evening in a Band Uniform benefit game and Greenfield McClain on the latter's fine court will end regular season festivities next Friday. Then the Tigers will point toward the Central District tournament to be started the next week end at Delaware.

Statistics Checked

In the 17 games played by the Red and Black nine have been decided by two points or less, the Tigers winning four of these close ones and dropping five. Another was dropped by four points and another was won by three. In only two of the Tigers' eight defeats has the winning team's margin been more than four points, Greenfield and Upper Arlington running up bigger scores.

Total points scored so far this year include 572 for the Tigers and 563 for the opponents.

ROOKIE PITCHER JOINS LAW AND HIS BASEBALL

BOSTON, Feb. 00—To most baseball players a career in the hand is worth two in the bush but not to Tom Early, 21-year-old rookie pitcher of the Boston Bees.

Although he recently completed his first season of major league ball and his future seems as assured as interest payments on a government bond, Tom is busy mapping out an alternative course in life.

After conferring with Boston college officials the big black-haired youngster mapped out a college course which will dovetail with his diamond duties. And once he has completed his college course Tom plans to go on and obtain a law degree.

New Speed Skating King, Roukema, Making Folks Forget Vander Meer

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 17—A year and a half ago a Dutch lad named Johnny Vander Meer from nearby Midland Park skyrocketed to fame by pitching two consecutive no-hit, no-run games for the Cincinnati Reds.

And now, another young Dutchman, 21-year-old Johnny Roukema from suburban Prospect Park, Vander Meer's birthplace, is stealing eastern headlines with his ice skating exploits.

Roukema, who skates only on week days because he is a firm believer in the church, as are all Hollanders in his native town, recently won his second consecutive international inter-city skating championship in a meet held at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Born Abroad A husky platinum-headed speedster, Roukema was born in the Netherlands, but has been in this country since he was two and one-half years old. He skated for the first time when 11 and won the first race he ever entered at 14.

His first important victory, however, was registered in 1936 when he won the boys' Intermediate Silver Skates championship in New York. His next victory was in the one-mile Middle Atlantic championships at Newburgh, N. Y., on January 1, 1937. A year later he finished second to Eddie Schroeder, Olympic star, in the same meet.

By February, 1938, Roukema began to attract the attention of eastern skate critics and shortly after the first of the month he won the New York senior men's two-mile Silver Skates crown.

Wins Big Race

Eligible to compete in the International Inter-City two-mile race a year ago, Roukema faced a field which included Del Lamb and Ken Bartholomew of Minneapolis, Armin Masses of Chicago, Vince Bozich of Detroit and others. The "Platinum Flash" took the lead near the end of the race only to be pushed aside by a trio of western skaters who crossed the finish line ahead of him. The judges disqualified the trio, however, and declared Roukema the winner.

Happy over the victory, Johnny lost no time in making plans to win in 1940. But he wanted to

BUCKS TO PLAY WISCONSIN FIVE IN LEAGUE TILT

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17—Ohio State University meets Wisconsin in a Big Ten basketball game in the Fairgrounds coliseum tonight but just who would be in the Buck lineup remained a matter of speculation today. Coach Harold Olsen said he was undecided just what combination would start the game. Ohio has won three and lost three in Western Conference competition while the Badgers have won two and lost four.

SCARECROW ON WAY OUT

WORCESTER, Mass.—The old-fashioned scarecrow, familiar figure in farmers' cornfields, is threatened with oblivion. Modern science has produced a dry powder which, the manufacturers claim, repels birds and rodents from planted corn, and is guaranteed not to retard the progress of the growing plant.

win by finishing first, not by the manner in which he gained the 1939 championship.

Starting in September of 1939 on indoor rinks, Roukema began a long training period which he interrupted long enough on New Year's Day to win the Middle Atlantic States championship at Newburgh. A month more of practice and the big night of the International race rolled around.

Hero to Hometowners Roukema started off with the pack, remained in the middle for a mile and three-quarters, and then opened up, finishing 20 yards ahead of Lamb and Dick Werner of this city. Like Vander Meer, who achieved high honors before nearly the entire population of his home town, he stopped Brooklyn, Roukema annexed his "double" before nearly every resident of Prospect Park.

Roukema has won virtually every championship contested in the east that is not held on Sunday. Should he ever decide to skate on Sunday, local fans would wager their last dollar on his eventually winning every meet he could possibly enter.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR VARIOUS TRACK EVENTS

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17—The North Randall running race track at Cleveland had a new set of dates today as the result of revision by the state racing commission of the tentative schedule drafted last week.

The Cleveland oval's dates were shifted to May 22-June 22 for a 28-day meeting to avoid conflict with Euclid Park's 25-day spring meeting April 20-May 18. The commission also approved a fall meeting for Randall if the track wishes to operate.

MINISTERS BRING FAMED LECTURER TO CITY FEB. 23

Dr. Roberta Ma, brilliant young Christian Chinese educator and scientist who has spoken in many cities of the United States on behalf of the China Relief program will be heard in Circleville at the First Methodist Church Friday, February 23, at 7:30 p. m.

Her appearance is sponsored by the Pickaway County Ministerial Association of which the Rev. L. C. Sherburne of St. Philip's Episcopal Church is president.

Dr. Ma is a native of North China. She was born in Chefoo, Shantung Province, the daughter of Christian parents. Her father was a doctor and her mother a teacher. Her parents died when she was quite young and she was educated in a mission school in Shanghai. In 1921 Miss Ma came to the United States and entered the University of Texas, specializing in plant physiology and soil bacteriology, having decided that with her talent for science she could best serve her native land, China, in the field of agriculture. While at the University of Texas her life was deepened and her Christian faith strengthened through her American friends, she states. She became a member of the Baptist Church.

Back To China in 1930

Having received the degrees B.A., M.A., and Ph. D., Dr. Ma returned to China in 1930, where she began her teaching career in several of the leading universities. She taught first in Yenching University, the great Christian missionary university in Peking, and was active in the leadership of the Y.W.C.A. in that city. Then she accepted teaching positions in several Government and mission universities and became Professor of Science at Sun Yat-Son University in Canton. In all, she served in three sections of China and was a staff member of the Education Department of Kwangsi Province.

In 1937, Canton, where she was teaching, was bombed. Dr. Ma was deeply touched by the sufferings of the refugees and war victims. She saw many thousands sick, wounded, homeless, and without funds or any means of support, so she decided to come at her own expense, to the United States to do everything in her power to enable Americans to realize the desperate plight of her countrymen. She has given her time and energy ever since, speaking in behalf of China Relief.

Widely Read Author

Dr. Ma has been a guest speaker under the auspices of the Church Committee for China Relief for the last year and has made a deep impression in many cities in her addresses in churches, schools, colleges, luncheon clubs, and other organizations. Dr. Ma is the author of "China Calls," which was published in Richmond, Virginia, last year and has been widely read. Proceeds from the sale of this book are donated by Miss Ma toward the support of Chinese orphanages.

Dr. Ma appears in Chinese dress at her lectures. She speaks with fluent command of the English language.

SPECIAL LENTEN RITES, OTHER SERVICES LISTED

United Lenten services are being held in the Tarlton churches as combined services will be held each Friday night. Presbyterian, Lutheran and Methodist churches are co-operating in the enterprise. The first of the combined Friday services will be held in the Lutheran Church with the Rev. Mr. Wenrich speaking and the second will be at the Methodist Church with the Rev. Mr. Root officiating. Special evangelistic services will begin in the First United Brethren Church, at 7:30 Sunday, February 25. Services will be held each evening at that hour until March 10.

A candle light vesper service will be held at the United Brethren Church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 25, under the auspices of the Otterbein Guild. Emphasis is being placed on attendance by the young people of the congregation. Miss Louise May is the leader.

Good Citizens and Good Neighbors

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic is Mat. 22:15-23:39, the Golden Text being Matt. 22:39, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.")

ONE THING in particular must strike readers of today's lesson, and that is the cleverness of Jesus' replies to His enemies. These enemies, Pharisees or priests, Sadducees, the religious political party, and the Herodians or followers of Herod, all refused to consider the idea of Jesus as the Messiah, and considered Him as a dangerous man and a heretic. They felt they must get rid of Him as quickly as possible. But they were afraid of the common people, whom they knew thought of Him as the Master and a prophet.

So these men tried to trap Him so that by His replies to their questions the people should lose faith in Him. They doubtless reasoned that He was an ignorant countryman who could easily be made to say just what they wanted Him to, and so give them an excuse for taking Him prisoner.

But no matter what questions these highly educated men put to Him, His answers always left them speechless and in the wrong. It was customary in those days for anyone who wished to question a rabbi to do so in public, no matter what he might be doing at the time. So the Pharisees and the Herodians banded together to decide on some question that He would not be able to answer satisfactorily, and which would offend the people. The Pharisees were a religious party, fanatical, and most of the rabbis and scribes came from that party. The Herodians were, as the name implies, followers of Herod.

Ask Concerning Tax
The question that they decided to ask Jesus concerned the tribute or poll tax which the Romans levied upon the Jews and which they hated. The Pharisees and Herodians addressed Jesus in most flattering terms, calling Him Teacher and saying they knew He

METHODISTS TO GATHER THURSDAY IN COLUMBUS

A conclave of the Methodist Advance Movement will bring Methodists from ten Ohio districts to Memorial Hall in Columbus for an all day meeting on Thursday February 22.

Bishops J. Lloyd Decell, Birmingham; Ivan Lee Holt, Dallas; A. P. Shaw, New Orleans and Lester Smith, Cincinnati will be present during the day and deliver several addresses.

Two luncheons are scheduled and both will receive a message from one of the visiting bishops. The luncheon at the Broad Street Methodist Church at which Dr. Frank G. Fowler, superintendent of the White Cross Hospital will preside, will hear Bishop Shaw. Bishop Decell will speak at the luncheon at the YWCA where Dr. H. J. Burgstahler will preside.

During the morning session of the meeting Bishop Holt will speak on "Deeper Need" and Bishop Decell's theme will be "Aim of the Methodist Advance." "Evangelism" will be the subject of Bishop Shaw in his afternoon address. Donald Barrs, Coshocton Calvary Methodist Church, will speak on "Youth and the Methodist Advance" in the evening and Bishop Shaw will bring another message to the assembly.

In the interests of the White Cross Hospital representatives of the Chillicothe district churches will meet at Adelphi at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Parish: Adelphi Official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 20; Laurelville Official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 21; Hallsville official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 23; Haynes Official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 24.

was true and taught the way of God, etc.—a most hypocritical attitude for them to take who only wished Him ill. "Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar or is it not?" Jesus called for a Roman coin, and when it was brought He said, "Whose is this image and superscription?" "Caesar's," they answered. Then Jesus said, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's." His enemies had nothing to say to that answer, but slunk away.

Then the Sadducees came to Him. They, too, were an influential religious party, and they did not believe in the resurrection. The question they put was an absurd one, but they thought to trap Him, nevertheless. If the oldest of seven brothers married a woman and he died, leaving no children, it would be lawful for the brother next in age to marry the woman. If he did this, but he, too, died and she married each of the brothers in turn and all died and she herself finally passed away, in the resurrection, whose wife would she be? "Ye do err," said Jesus, "not knowing the scripture, nor the power of God. For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven." The Sadducees also went away marveling.

Lawyer Questions Him
Next a lawyer, a Pharisee, went to Him and asked Him what is the great commandment? And Jesus answered the man: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

These men drew Christ's anger because He knew, oh so well, that they were not sincere in apparently seeking knowledge. He saw through them and that they were trying to trap and mock Him, and he denounced them, calling them hypocrites. Insincerity always aroused the Lord's contempt.

These questions were asked our Lord during the last week of His life on earth. He realized that the people as a whole would not take His message and His warning, and He looked at the beautiful city of Jerusalem, and mourned over it in the touching words:

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!"

"Behold, your house is left unto you desolate."

"For I say unto you, Ye shall not see Me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord."

Jesus never taught again. The scribes and Pharisees—hypocrites, He called them—had no more chance to receive Him and His message, and His Jerusalem was truly left desolate and the Jewish people were scattered.

Good Citizens and Good Neighbors

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matt. 22:15-23:39

Trying to trap Jesus, the Pharisees and followers of Herod gathered together to talk over and decide what questions they should ask Him that would make the people hate Him.

These men went to Jesus and asked Him concerning the hated poll-tax that the Romans levied on the Jews. His answer was: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

The Sadducees then had their turn, asking the Lord a question concerning marriage laws in heaven, but Jesus told them in heaven there was neither marriage nor giving in marriage.

Having silenced His enemies, Jesus looked mournfully toward Jerusalem, foreseeing its downfall because the people would not listen to Him. (GOLDEN TEXT—Matt. 22:39)

NEAR-EAST PREPAREDNESS
IT'S about time for another crop of readers to tackle Lawrence of Arabia's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom." That book is strong meat, but a lot of Americans have found it worth while merely as a remarkable piece of writing and a colorful picture of the Arabian campaign in the last war. Now, a quarter of a century later, the whole Near East becomes alive again with marching troops and martial spirit.
The Arabs now seem to be British allies. Old hostilities are forgotten. Like the British and French, they have made peace with the Turks, and the whole Near East rises together, prepared for—what?
It looks like mere self-defense against Germany and Russia and protection for the Balkans. There might be a strategic attack on Russia to divert Stalin from his northern campaign and save the Finns. In any case, it will be worth watching.

SCHOOL CHIMES
In a large public school recently the clanging bells that formerly sounded the signal for dismissal, recess, and change of class have been replaced by melodious chimes. Although the bells were in the halls they made so much harsh noise that they were heard through closed doors and above the sound of voices reciting lessons. Unwary persons standing near them when they sounded were well-nigh deafened or frightened out of their wits.
The chimes, playing six notes, are operated automatically and heard through amplifiers in every room over a loudspeaker system. The results have been so satisfactory already that it is likely more schools will abandon the old bells.
"I've noticed quite a little difference in the way the pupils leave their classrooms since the chimes were installed," says the principal. "They seem much calmer."
If pupils are calmer, no doubt teachers, too, are calmer. Such an attitude, prevailing in a school building, should improve the quality of the teaching and the learning, and end a few disciplinary problems automatically. Loud and harsh noises should be banned in schools as they are in hospitals and libraries.

The lily-painters and refined gold-gilders are now going to put a lovely chemical blush on the Grimes Golden apple. There ought to be a law!
It's getting to be front-page news when any man in public life declines to try for the presidency.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

THE REPUBLICANS don't want anybody to get the idea that they're opposed to any legitimate program for governmental relief of unemployment, for the support of the deserving aged or otherwise needy, for farm help, for the making of opportunities for the incoming generation, and all that kind of thing. Congressman Joseph W. Martin, G. O. P. leader in the house of representatives, has been rubbing this notion in as vigorously as possible, on his recent speaking tour through the mid-west. He evidently realizes that it would be bad politics for his party to be advertised as favoring an abandonment of these and other New Deal socio-economic policies. What he does contend is that the New Deal has promoted them wastefully.
Well, HOW wastefully? Specific instances of this alleged wastefulness ought to be cited.
CASE OF CCC CITED
The Republican national committee recognizes as much. It starts off with the Civilian Conservation Corps, a set-up in youth's behalf. The theory is that "kids" should be mobilized for reclamation work, thus being trained into first-class citizenship.
The Republican committee doesn't dispute the merits of the concept. However, it maintains that a lot of city youngsters don't care to be drafted for that kind of employment. It quotes figures to show that, in urban and semi-ur-

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN,
WELLES PEACE MISSION
WASHINGTON—Inside fact regarding Sumner Welles' trip to Europe— which starts today—is that it was conceived on the spur of the moment. Roosevelt didn't know, and his Under Secretary of State had no idea up until two or three days before he announced it, that anyone would take a trip on behalf of peace.
The President, however, was convinced that things were bound to break very badly in Europe by spring, and he wanted to head it off if there was any way conceivably possible.
So the Sumner Welles trip was calculated to be something like the public peace messages which Roosevelt sent to Hitler, Mussolini, et al, before Munich and before the Polish crisis, by which he sought to postpone war. Similarly, the Welles pilgrimage is intended to hold out enough hope for peace to stave off civilian bombings, mass attacks upon the Westwall, and other horrors from which so far this war has been free.
Even if there is no peace, Roosevelt hopes the Welles mission may start Europe talking, and the longer they talk, the longer is postponed the bitterness bound to engulf both sides if war becomes really intensive.
Roosevelt is superstitious about too much advance preparation. He thinks that the usual pourparlers spoil an important diplomatic move. So he decided to send Welles off immediately. Not even the French and British ambassadors learned of it until a few hours before the press.

Roosevelt is superstitious about too much advance preparation. He thinks that the usual pourparlers spoil an important diplomatic move. So he decided to send Welles off immediately. Not even the French and British ambassadors learned of it until a few hours before the press.

BACKGROUND OF PEACE
While this was the immediate spring-board to the Welles mission, actually there is a much longer and more important background. That background can be divided roughly into three parts:

1. Roosevelt's genuine dream for peace, a dream toward the fulfillment of which he has worked consistently since before the war broke.
2. Roosevelt's fear that even with the United States on the side-lines, the world's disrupted war economies will turn New Deal reforms topsy-turvy. (For instance, the present curtailment of British cotton and tobacco purchases, which will hurt millions of Southern farmers, while aviation factories in the North and West will declare lush dividends.)
3. Roosevelt's fear that eventually, and despite the neutrality act, the United States will be drawn in. This last work is more acute at this moment than appears on the surface, and is one important reason for the timing of the Welles pilgrimage.

TWO NEW WAR FRONTS
All the confidential information received by the State Department points to the probability of major hostilities starting on two new war fronts this spring or summer. These fronts are (a) a new Scandinavian attack by Sweden and Norway against Russia; (b) a British and French attack upon South Russia and the Baku oil fields through the Caucasus.
Welles will report on what the Allies (Continued on Page Six) ban neighbors, boys don't join the CCC nearly as fast as recruits are desired.

"Why, then," queries the committee, "vote federal funds for, say, 100 CCC youths, with 25 vacancies on the list already?"
The critics haven't got around yet to other agencies, but that's an illustration. Their figures may be available. However, such is their line of argument.
Their hope is, not that the administration has been altogether wrong in principle, but that it's overdone matters, at needless expense.
GANNETT'S CAMPAIGN
Few politicians take Publisher Gannett's campaign for the Republican presidential campaign very seriously.
But politicians do take deep thought as to the origin of his aspirations. Their surmise is that his candidacy may have been inspired by Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York.
Wadsworth himself is semi-potential material. He's a very able congressman. His background is first rate, too. His father was a senator before him. Later he also was in the senate for a while, but subsequently lapsed into the house of representatives. There he's been recognized by his fellow legislators as an outstanding individual in the own particular midst in the has substantial influence in the Empire state, but as yet the country at large isn't much acquainted with him. What he needs is adver-

DIET AND HEALTH

Where the Doctors Select Their Patients

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
MY COLLEAGUES in the United States are terribly perturbed about the possibilities of socialized medicine. It might comfort my fellow physicians to see how smoothly it works in Mexico, where I saw many things of medical interest on my recent southern jaunt.
There was a phantasy in one of Samuel Butler's notebooks which described a topsy-turvy situation in which, instead of cooks applying to housewives for positions, the mistresses applied to the cooks. And the understanding and good-tempered mistress got the beautiful and accomplished cook. In our land the patients select their physicians, and the physicians do not always want the ones they get. But in enlightened Mexico the physicians select their patients, and they are allowed to treat the diseases in which they are most interested.
Idea on Fatigue
I noticed what I thought was a very sensible attitude of the Mexican laborer to fatigue. I saw an old man carrying a bundle on his head, and all of a sudden the "afternoon let-down" seemed to get him. He just squatted down in a doorway, rested his bundle, and fell fast asleep. I understand that here, up north, the idea prevails in some of the churches that the office force is mustered and put through some exercises to wake them up. The poor things go back to work even more tired than before the restorative was applied. How much better it would be, instead of further fatiguing them or recommending a jolt of some awakening concoction at the soda fountain, to provide couches for them and allow a 20-minute snooze! I wager the work would be done twice as well after that as after an exercise period.
I went among people in Yucatan that were on as low a level of civilization as I have ever seen. They live in and off the jungle—they build their houses of straight sticks and thatch; they go barefoot; they eat the bananas and fruit which grow wild and hunt the wild turkey and the deer. I must say they looked a very healthy lot.
No Rickets
I've just seen a thousand little children, going around almost naked, and in that land of sunshine I saw not one case of rickets. "Foot imbalance" seemed to be unknown. And the mouths I examined, which had not the benefit of tooth brushes or tooth paste, were filled with gloriously shining natural dentures.

Divine intervention in disease is an article of implicit faith with most of the population around Mexico City. The shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe is the only healing shrine I ever visited. Outside the churches they sell little silver votive offerings shaped in the form of the part that is diseased. Before the cathedral I found only arms and legs. The healer there must specialize in orthopedics. But the Virgin of Guadalupe is a general practitioner, for there were votives of hands, ears, eyes, hearts, and the domestic animals; prayers could be made for a sick pig, donkey, cow, cat, dog—even for an automobile.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

DO WHAT HE WANTS
IF YOUR partner, who showed general weakness in the bidding, eventually doubles the opponents' contract, you know he is counting mainly on his holding of trumps, especially if you are short of them. Your job during the defense, then, is to help protect him from being end-played by the declarer. One way to help him is by leading through the declarer a suit which both he and your partner can ruff, if such a condition has developed.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
CHOLLY HAD been on the air only a week when Pee Wee Tyler, having flown home for a week-end from the private school she attended in New York, saw her picture in the Chicago Globe.
Startled, she read the caption: "The air waves welcomed this new beauty, Cholly O'Neil, pianist, this week. Miss O'Neil, red-headed, blue-eyed Irish charmer, will sell syrup. Another sure fire bet for television. She hails from Indiana U."
Syrup! That could mean only one thing. The Hayworths were sponsoring her. Furiously, Pee Wee threw the paper away and got up. If Dove had gone so far as to put his red-head on the air on her own program, it looked serious. She had flown home more to see Dove Hayworth than anyone else. She wanted to bring things to an issue.
Mrs. Hayworth was as anxious as the Tylers for her only son and Natalie to marry. The plump dowager positively fawned over her. The Hayworths hadn't the social background of the Tyler clan, but they had a lot more money. In fact, the Tylers were having a terrific struggle to keep up their end socially.
It would be absolutely necessary for Natalie to marry wealth or they would be penniless in a few years. That had been made very clear to the debutante daughter.
Natalie called Mrs. Hayworth and got herself invited to tea that afternoon. The Hayworths were in their penthouse in town for the winter months. Mrs. Hayworth greeted Pee Wee with warm affection.
"Darling!" She kissed the cool cheek of the young girl. "I never would have forgiven you if you had come home for the week-end and hadn't dropped in to see an old lady."
"Old lady!" scoffed Natalie, as a butler assisted her with her mink coat. "You positively look shamefully young. You know you do!"
Mrs. Hayworth, with an arm around Natalie, led her to a chair beside the open fire in the library. "It's cozier in here." She sat down beside the tea table. "And we can have a nice little talk."
"Isn't Dove home?" Natalie asked, with just the proper touch of disappointment in her voice.
"No," Mrs. Hayworth poured a cup of tea and handed it to Pee Wee. "I've been phoning all over for the rascal. He'll be terribly disappointed. But I'll have him phone you at home as soon as he comes in, if you're going to be there."
Natalie sighed.
"Oh, he probably won't get in. I hear he's been very busy socially."
"Oh, yes," Mrs. Hayworth smiled, "but it doesn't mean anything. He's just marking time till you're through school."
She said it teasingly, but Natalie was wise enough to know she was supposed to take it seriously.
"From what I've heard—Natalie gave her hostess a sad little smile—"he hasn't much time to think of poor little me. Out of sight, out of mind."
Mrs. Hayworth looked at her questioningly.
"What have you heard, Natalie?"
"Oh, I mustn't gossip."
Straightening in her chair, Mrs.

Thirty Friends Invited To Party at Mader Home

Spring Flowers
Fill Tables
For Affair

Social Calendar

Vases of lovely spring flowers, including sweet peas and daffodils, centered the small tables where 30 guests were served Friday when Mrs. Ella Hornbeck and Mrs. Henry Mader of Pinckney Street were joint hostesses at a bridge luncheon.

Valentine place cards and tallies completed the party appointments of the attractive tables.

Mrs. John Bennett of Circleville carried off the trophy for high score, Mrs. Florence Duvendek and Mrs. Edward S. Anderson of Williamsport winning second and third favors in the games of progressive contract bridge.

One table of Chinese checkers was in play with the prize going to Mrs. C. E. Hill of Williamsport.

The guest list included friends from Circleville, Williamsport and Chillicothe.

Presbyterian Social Club
Speaking on the subject of "Early American Glass", Mrs. R. R. Bales presented an unusually interesting talk before the members and visitors of the Women's Social Club of the Presbyterian Church Friday in the social room. About 60 were present and became glass conscious as the speaker revealed the romance of its history.

Showing a thorough study of her subject, Mrs. Bales unfolded the historical background of its discovery by accident about 2500 B. C., told of its necessary constituents, such as hardness, clearness, weight and tone, and of the elements essential to its manufacture, alkali and silica.

She opened the eyes of the audience to the many uses of glass in everyday life and in contrast said that many of our earliest settlers were born, lived and died without having seen or known of it.

She mentioned the first attempt at its manufacture in this country as being the making of crude bottles in Jamestown about 1609, and said the first real use found for it was the manufacture of beads in bright colors for barter with the Indians.

Mrs. Bales told of the three periods of glass, naming them as Wister, Steigal and Sandwich. She continued her talk by telling the types of articles manufactured during each of these periods.

Many fine pieces of glass were displayed at the meeting, the different patterns and kinds being discussed during the hour following the talk.

Mrs. G. G. Campbell, president, opened the meeting by reading a delightful poem and closed the business session with an appropriate prayer. Mrs. Leland Poppo, secretary, presented her report preceding the program.

Light refreshments were served, fry in a white pottery holder flanked by tall red candles forming the centerpiece of the table.

Miss Florence Dunton headed the social committee which was comprised of Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Edward Stephens, Mrs. L. H. Mels, Mrs. James H. Adams, Mrs. Loring Evans, Mrs. William Mack, Mrs. S. M. Cryder, Miss Mary Heffner and Miss Winifred Parrett.

Stoutsville PTA
Dr. J. F. Pocock of Lancaster will give a travelogue of his recent extensive tour in western Canada and the western states when the Stoutsville Parent-Teacher Association meets Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the school auditorium.

Dr. Paul Blum of Lancaster will also appear on the program.

Mrs. Theodore Huston, pianist, will furnish music and the Rev.

At The Cliftona

VICTOR Herbert, America's favorite composer and the man who first taught the world how to sing about love, comes to life on the screen in a festival of song, laughter and romance, in the first film based on his personality, "The Great Victor Herbert," which opens Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre. Above are three members of the cast.

after which the club members sewed quilt blocks.

Refreshments were served at 4:30 p. m. by the officers of the society.

The next meeting will be March 1 in the Red room. Members are requested to take sandwiches for the refreshment hour.

Valentine Party

A Valentine party was held Friday at the home of Marjorie Hall, South Scioto Street, with members of the intermediate class of the Church of the Brethren as guests. Mrs. Earl Smith, class teacher, and seven members enjoyed the delightful affair.

Games and music formed the entertainment of the party which closed with a box lunch.

Royal Neighbors

Fifteen members attended the business meeting of the Royal Neighbors Friday in the lodge room, Modern Woodmen Hall.

Mrs. George Bennett was in charge of the ritualistic work and announced the next session for March 1.

Tea or Coffee
PICKLED Pineapple Slices — Combine one cup of the syrup from canned pineapple slices with one-fourth cup brown sugar, one-half teaspoon whole cloves, two pieces of stick cinnamon and one-fourth cup mild vinegar. Bring to boiling point. Add eight slices of pineapple. When boiling remove from heat and let pineapple remain in syrup over night if possible. May be sealed in sterilized jars while hot.

Chocolate Fudge Icing — Ingredients: two ounces bitter chocolate (two squares), one-half cup water, one and one-half cups sugar, one tablespoon butter one-fourth teaspoon cream of tartar, few grains salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla, two tablespoons thick cream. Cut chocolate into small pieces. Put in saucepan with water. Heat together until chocolate is melted. Beat to blend thoroughly. Stir in sugar, butter and cream of tartar. Cook to the very soft ball stage, 234 F. Remove from heat and let stand undisturbed until lukewarm. Sprinkle salt and vanilla over the surface and beat until mixture will hold its shape. Thin with heavy cream to proper spreading consistency.

TWENTY-SIX SEE EVANS' "HAMLET"

"Gee I wish I could get out of school today!" "Those lucky kids, getting excused this afternoon." These are some of the comments heard Thursday from the three hundred and fifty odd pupils who didn't go to Columbus to see "Hamlet."

Twenty-five juniors and seniors and Miss Margaret Rooney attended the matinee performance of Maurice Evans' uncut version of the play. They found "Hamlet" to be an exciting and inspiring drama, much to the surprise of those who were somewhat prejudiced against Shakespeare's works when they entered the theatre. All agreed that the acting was excellent on the parts of stars and supporting players alike. Costumes were colorful, in contrast to the dark, gloomy settings of the palace.

Junior English classes are now finishing their study of "Hamlet," and senior classes read it in class last year.

GROUP RECEIVES NEW SELECTIONS

For the past few weeks the high school orchestra, under the direction of C. F. Zaenglein, has been practicing several new selections.

Among the numbers received by the orchestra, are:

The Commander,
March ..... Brochton
Festival March ..... von Weber
Spirit of the West,
March ..... Hummer
Golden Spur,
March ..... Weber
War March of the
Priests ..... Mendelssohn
Panorama, overture... Barnhouse

Mrs. Zaenglein stated that he has ordered more music and that it should be here for orchestra practice Tuesday afternoon.

B & O EXCURSION TO BE APRIL 12

Recently it was announced in Circleville schools that a special educational tour to Washington, D. C. is being planned by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for April 12.

This excursion is exclusively for students, teachers, parents and chaperons. Leaving Friday, April 12, members of the group will spend all day Saturday in the capital, returning Sunday morning.

Any high school pupils or their friends may purchase tickets for this tour at $5.00 a round trip. Coupons for these tickets must be secured from the high school principal.

FIVE BOYS JOIN LOCAL HI-Y CLUB

Monday evening at 7:30, the Hi-Y club accepted five new members into its club. The boys were picked from those who applied for membership recently. Lloyd Jones, James Shea, George Skaggs, Joe Staley and Charles Zaenglein are the new members selected.

At this meeting the club discussed plans for a formal initiation at the next meeting. Next Monday evening the club will formally accept the new members at a Father-Son dinner.

Various committees were appointed by the president to arrange the affair.

Tomorrow at 10:20 the Hi-Y club will attend the United Brethren church.

STOOGES ACCEPT BURGET, MELVIN

Last Tuesday evening, the Stooze club held its weekly meeting at the home of Tom Dewey.

At this time two boys were voted into the club to fill vacancies therein. These boys were William Burget and Robert Melvin.

The Stooze club holds no formal or informal initiation. New members are, however, "stooged" or tapped "gently" on the head by old members the day after their admission to the club.

Members of the club decided to send Mrs. Frank Davis a box of candy for Valentine's day in appreciation of her work on the Stooze dinner.

At the regular meeting of the E. M. S. Wednesday, the editor and assistant editor of the Scandal Sheet were named. Norma Brown, president, appointed Lloyd Jones editor, Mary Ruth Owens assistant editor. Lloyd then posted the assignment sheet.

After a short discussion, the business session closed.

A one-act play was presented by the drama division. The non-fiction division will present the program at the next meeting.

Class Makes Commencement Plans

UNIFORM DRIVE SHOWS SUCCESS

Thus far, success has been the theme of the "Band Uniform Drive." The success of this movement has been made possible by the initiative of the committee in charge. It is only fit that the names of the members appear here.

With Ray Rowland, Chairman, and Frank Fischer, Secretary, the committee, Robert Colville, Frank Lynch, Elma Rains, Mrs. Allen Thornton, and C. F. Zaenglein, has been received cordially, wherever it has solicited.

Future events which will be held in connection with the uniform drive will be the Testimonial Dinner on February 28, and tag week during the week of February 26.

Questions have been asked members of the band as to the color selected for the uniforms. The color is to be "red and black," but as yet the committee in charge of selecting the type has not reported. However, they have narrowed their selection to either military or cadet suits.

RESERVES PLAN THREE PROJECTS

Pat Bennett, vice president of the Senior Girl Reserves, opened the regular meeting Wednesday at 3:45. In the absence of the secretary, Mable Noggle read the roll call and minutes.

Regina Thornton announced that the music division of the club would have a tea, Wednesday February 21. Pat urged all members to attend this project.

Dramatic division decided to present a chapel program in the near future and to study dramatic literature.

Helen Beck, chairman of the literature group, read the minutes of the last meeting and told the club that the girls read "Goodbye Mr. Chips" by James Hilton. The girls in this division chose pen names.

Pat asked all members of the club to hand in any names of girls who wish to join the club before Tuesday, February 20.

Plans for enlarging the "Band Uniform Fund" were completed at this meeting. Miss Elma Rains, club adviser, announced that the "Tag Day" project would be held Saturday, February 24. Sr. Girl Reserves will be stationed on all corners at Court and Main Streets. Jeanne Kinney, Regina Thornton, Helen Beck and Pollyanna Friedman are in charge of four groups who will solicit donors.

After discussing the "Tag Day" project, the meeting was adjourned.

BAND PREPARES FOR FESTIVALS

During the preceding weeks much work has been accomplished by the high school band in anticipation of the festivals in which they will participate in the spring.

Soloists have been rehearsing regularly at special practices held on Thursday evenings. The soloists to date are Pat Bennett, Clifford Kerns, Delbert Puckett, Robert Kline, Glenn Barnhart and William Glenn.

All the numbers that will be played at the concerts held at Mt. Vernon and Lancaster have arrived and have been handed out except "May Time" by Sigmund Romberg.

In connection with the pieces which have arrived, Mr. Zaenglein has called sections rehearsals on Thursdays afternoons. Last Thursday the reed section rehearsed.

SCANDAL SHEET EDITORS NAMED

At the regular meeting of the E. M. S. Wednesday, the editor and assistant editor of the Scandal Sheet were named. Norma Brown, president, appointed Lloyd Jones editor, Mary Ruth Owens assistant editor. Lloyd then posted the assignment sheet.

EDITORIAL COURTESY?

What is courtesy? It is politeness combined with kindness; respect.

How many of us are courteous—even kind or respectful? Very few of us are that thoughtful.

Courtesy is said to open more doors to a person than either appearance or intelligence. Since this is true why is there such a lack of it, particularly in our high school?

I believe that one reason for this lack is indifference. This indifference is found in various fields of our high school activities. We are indifferent in the class room. To some it makes no difference whether we have prepared our assignments or not. So we do not care whether our football or basketball teams win or lose. It's sort of nice if it does and if it doesn't—well that's all right. We are not sufficiently interested to do something about it. After all, these contestants represent our school and we should be backing them one hundred percent.

Even in our school clubs we find this attitude of indifference. Not only club members but all the student body should be behind every worthwhile project any group undertakes.

Among a great many of our number there is an idea that it is smart to be discourteous. This is particularly true in the halls. We consider no one else's rights or desires.

We should learn that the world—even a high school world—wasn't created just for one individual, but for all of us.

The care and protection of the private property of others and of public property should be the concern of each individual. Not only should we see that our school building and books are not defaced, but we should take care, at all times, that our rooms are free of unnecessary scraps of paper, chalk, etc.

What can we do about this lack of courtesy? We can each one consider himself a committee of one whose business it is to see that he is always courteous, kind and thoughtful and to remind those of use who forget from time to time.

Let's try it for a week—then a month. By that time, we should all be so changed in our attitude, and conditions not only at school, but in the whole community would be so ideal we should none of us think of going back to the old way. Too idealistic, you say! Perhaps—but well worth striving to attain.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

intend to do about these two situations. At present the Swedes have told the State Department that it will be impossible for them to stay out of war, and that they are ready to come to the defense of Finland immediately if they can count on some support from France and Britain.

This is why Roosevelt, in a conference with the War and Navy last week, favored the immediate sale of over-age U. S. warships to Sweden. He wanted them sold now, before Sweden became a belligerent and it was too late.

This also was the main subject of conversation at the Daladier-Chamberlain meeting last week. Daladier urged that the Allies support Sweden, thereby create a new front which might defeat Russia, would worry Germany.

Also under discussion is an attack by General Wiegand's Army of the Levant, now in Syria, against the Russian oil fields. Cutting off Russian oil would paralyze the Soviet army.

Wiegand's army is now 300,000 strong and among the finest troops of France. It has just been augmented by 30,000 Anzacs. All are confident that they could make short work of the Soviet army in the Caucasus.

Here is something significant: both of these proposed new fronts are aimed not against Germany, but Russia. This is in line with the old appeasement clique inside the British Cabinet, which thinks the war may be turned around so that Germany in the end will be found fighting on the Allied side against Russia.

This may be mere day-dreaming; but at least the groundwork for such a turn-about is now being laid by the plan to attack Russia from both north and south, leaving Germany aloof.

SUMNER WELLES, DIPLOMAT

It may be significant that Under Secretary Welles, the man who undertakes this, the most delicate and important mission since the days of Colonel House, always has been a devout believer that permanent peace depended upon a balanced Europe.

He has been emphatically opposed to the inequalities of Versailles. He believed that Germany had to be given raw materials, markets and a chance to breathe. Welles has been accused of going so far on this thesis, before Munich, that he was a definite "appeaser".

After Munich, however, he was not. He joined the Hitler-haters, and it is highly doubtful whether

LAURELVILLE

By Mrs. Paul Armstrong

Mr. and Mrs. Melrose Harbaugh entertained Sunday evening a group of friends with a turkey dinner at their home in Logan. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Grattidge, Merrill Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Archer.

Out of town relatives and friends who attended funeral services of William Saylor, 92, were Mrs. Aaron Will, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Will, Miss Miriam Will, Mrs. H. B. Hifter of McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. James Albin, Mrs. Stoffer of Jamestown, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ortmann, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ortmann, Mrs. Charles Ortmann, Mrs. Robert James, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vorus of Chillicothe, Mrs. Minnie White and Miss Janet White of Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sharp entertained a group of friends at their home on Sherman Street, Friday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of Marcellus Young. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sharp, Miss Mary Young, Harold Jinks, Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Young and son Roger, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp.

The School Women's Club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Miss Opal Wylie, Gibsonville.

Miss Grace Orr, the president, was in the chair during the business session. The minutes of the last meeting was read by the secretary, Miss Velva Brashares. A committee had written the by-laws and constitution and were read by the chairman, Miss Velva Brashares. The group voted to have meetings every two months and the price of the dinner fifty cents. The club was invited to Union Furnace for the April meeting, which will be held the first Thursday of April.

During the social hour group singing was enjoyed by thirty-three members with Miss Maxine Weinrich accompanist.

Teachers attending from Laurelville, South Bloomingville, and Salt Creek Township are Miss Ruth Strous, Miss Bernice Taylor, Miss Frances McClelland, Miss Marilla Thomas, Miss Maxine Weinrich, Mrs. Winnie Armstrong, Mrs. Nellie Westfall and Mrs. Golda Paxton.

Mrs. Belinda Priddy had the misfortune to fall in her backyard Saturday morning and break her left arm near the shoulder.

Mrs. Ernest F. Cox underwent an operation at Lancaster Hospital Monday.

Lloyd Armstrong returned from his Florida trip, Sunday. Mrs. Charles Armstrong is spending two or three weeks in Fort Myers, Fla., with Mrs. Myrtle Reichelderfer.

The members of the U. B. Ladies Aid Society were entertained at the home of Mrs. Nelson Karshner, Wednesday afternoon. The opening song was "He hideth My Soul", prayer by Rev. Stockman and the ninth Psalm was read by the president, Mrs. Ida Defenbaugh. A short business session followed. The regular meeting date was Thursday but on account of Mrs. Karshner's birthday anniversary on Wednesday the group planned a surprise for her.

Mrs. Anna Lytle and Mrs. Darrel Karshner of Lancaster, Mrs. Alvin Hatmaker and daughter, Virginia of near Hallsville were guests. ## WASHINGTON C. H. WATER LOSES SUPPLY OF LIME

WASHINGTON C. H., Feb. 17—The city water supply has lost most of its recent lime content.

For eight months, deep wells in the Niagara limestone provided the water supply which has had such a heavy lime content that a single drop on glass left a pronounced deposit.

Recent rains have filled the reservoir on Paint creek and now the supply is being pumped from large but shallow wells, where the water supply is filtered through sand and the supply is almost "soft".

GASOLINE EXCISE FUND SENT TO CITY, COUNTY

Pickaway County became $16,000 richer Saturday when the state distributed on Friday $2,838,261 from the gasoline excise fund. It hasn't been determined what the City of Circleville will draw from the fund.

Each county received $10,000 and $400 went to each township. The remainder of the money is distributed among the municipalities.

DELINQUENT TAX GROUP STUDIES STATE PROBLEM

Short Returns After Confab Conducted During Week In Cleveland

USE OF NEW ACT CITED

Commissioners Have Right To Name Assessment Committee

County Auditor Forrest Short has returned home after attending an important meeting in Cleveland during which the delinquent tax situation in the state was discussed by the Ohio Delinquent Tax Commission of which he is a member. The meeting was conducted in the Cuyahoga County courthouse.

Members of the Commission are seeking means of relieving the delinquent tax situation. The tax payer's complaint has been that there are assessments placed on improved property which are higher than the actual value of the land. The result has been a stalemate on building on these improved lands and allowing the installed utilities to go unused while the land which has been cut into lots to lie unusable for farming, Short said.

Discussion of the feasibility of the application of Senate Bill 235 which was passed by the legislature in June, 1939 was the focal point of the auditors' meeting.

Up to Commissioners
The bill allows each county board of commissioners to appoint an assessment board which may lower the assessment on real estate on the promise of the land owner to build on that land. The question that hinders the application of the bill is its constitutionality.

To this end the Cuyahoga county prosecutor is bringing suit against the county auditor in the Supreme Court as a test case. The result of the court's decision may shape the policy of the 88 boards of county commissioners in appointing such assessment boards.

There was no feeling of unanimity among the members, some disagreeing over its application. Many felt that it should not be used, others favored it and the rest remained indifferent. The opinion was expressed that, although it may be useful, the bill and its application does not completely remedy the situation, the auditor declared.

A statement was made at the meeting that the delinquent tax of Cuyahoga County alone was as much as $38,000,000.

Other members of the commission are Representative Charles Frank, Summit County; Representative W. D. Burgett, Dorset; Representative William Hudiet, Cleveland; Senator Tom Jones, Middleport; and Senator Fred G. Reiners, Cincinnati.

TAGS ON CAR GET NEW HOLLANDER IN TROUBLE

William Reese, New Holland, tried to avoid capture Friday night by the State Highway Patrol who wanted him for operating a motor vehicle with license plates issued to another car. When Reese saw Patrolman H. O. MacAdams in New Holland approaching his Ford car which bore the plates issued to a Chevrolet, he abandoned the automobile and fled.

MacAdams caught him a short time later and at first Reese denied any knowledge of the car or the plates. He later admitted that he never had the plates transferred. Further investigation brought to light that he had never registered for a driver's license.

He was assessed the minimum fine of $50 as allowed by state law and was remanded to the county jail on failure to pay. His hearing was in a New Holland court.

Some party leaders expressed doubt whether Sen. Joe Donahay would agree to serve as "favorite son" if the delegation is pledged to a third term for President Roosevelt.

Such a move, they pointed out, would make Senator Donahay a "stalking horse" for the President, a move to which he strongly objected when State Chairman Arthur L. Limbach announced recently the delegation would be pledged to a third term with Donahay as "favorite son."

Charles Sawyer, national committeeman and unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate two years ago, said he would announce at today's meeting whether he would be a candidate for governor this year.

ships sunk by the pocket battleship.

(Prisoners landed from the Graf Spee in Montevideo described the Altmark as a "hell ship" on which the captives were treated badly.)

The admiralty announced today that it had ordered the British warships to enter neutral waters in search of the Altmark.

"It will be remembered," said an admiralty bulletin, "that the Admiral Graf Spee sank seven British merchant ships in the South Atlantic before Christmas."

"The officers were made prisoners aboard the Graf Spee and were tolerably treated."

"The seamen, on the other hand, were confined on the Altmark, which, according to reports by the British prisoners liberated from the Graf Spee, was armed with concealed guns."

"Between 300 and 400 British merchant seamen were held prisoners aboard this vessel, and on the evidence of those transferred from the Graf Spee and later rescued, grievous hardships and severities were inflicted on them."

"Since then the Altmark vanished on the seas. No trace of her could be found until she appeared February 15."

"She was moving down the Norwegian coast, taking advantage of its peculiar configuration, and endeavoring to convey these 300 to 400 British merchant seamen as captives through Norwegian territorial waters to confinement in Germany."

"Orders were given by the admiralty, with full authority of His Majesty's government, to enter neutral waters in search of the Altmark and rescue any prisoners found aboard."

BERLIN, Feb. 17 — Germany today prepared to charge Great Britain with flagrant violation of the international code for sea warfare, as a result of the Altmark incident, it was stated authoritatively.

The protest will be based on information received in Berlin saying that one of several British destroyers forceably boarded the Altmark within a Norwegian fjord, killing and injuring a number of seamen in the resultant hand-to-hand melee, in spite of Norwegian intervention.

Authoritative quarters said the British action was the same as though a German submarine suddenly appeared in New York harbor and torpedoed the Queen Mary or Normandie.

It is not clear at present whether the Altmark was sunk or is being escorted across the North Sea.

In any case, Berlin authorities said, the affair is by no means ended.

G. O. P. TO MEET IN QUAKER CITY

West. One western G. O. P. leader, who would not allow his name to be mentioned because he is supporting a candidate other than Dewey, reported that the New York district attorney was gaining a lot of delegates in western states.

There also was considerable talk among committeemen about Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, Republican floor leader in the house, for a place on the G. O. P. ticket, possibly as vice-president. Told of it, Martin merely smiled. His friends said he would not be a candidate for that post.

Most of the party leaders wanted uncommitted delegations sent to Philadelphia. Martin said that New England's bloc of 90 delegates would be uncommitted, other than those from New Hampshire. The New Hampshire delegates, it was reported, will vote for their favorite son, Senator Styles Bridges, on the first ballot and then probably be released.

Philadelphia had a 67-30 landslide in the voting on the convention city. It bid about $250,000 in contrast to Chicago's bid of $125,000. Chicago had obtained the Democratic convention for the same sum but mainly because word had been spread that President Roosevelt favored that city in event he decided to seek a third term.

Pickaway County Young Democrats crowded the Common Pleas Courtroom at the Court House Friday night for a "harmony" meeting and membership enrollment drive to precede the coming primary elections and the campaign itself.

"It was essentially a harmony meeting," Dr. E. L. Montgomery, president of the club, said. "Our slogan might well be 'Peace and harmony in the ranks of militant democracy.'"

Joseph Adkins, Circleville attorney, who was appointed as a member of the state executive committee at the state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs in Columbus early in the month, reported to the county organization, on the program and the activities of the state club.

The young Democrats elected Harriet Mason as secretary-treasurer when it accepted the resignation from that post of Jane Mader who resigned because of the Hatch bill which prohibits government employees to be actively engaged in politics.

Approximately 125 members were on hand when the meeting started and the number swelled as the evening advanced. "It was heartening to see so goodly a number of active workers at the meeting, members who" (Continued on Page Eight)

DEATH CHEATED AS PLANE FALLS

Two Injured Men Rescued From Isolated Lake In Canada

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 17—Snatched from almost certain death on the ice of an isolated lake where their Canadian Airways mail plane crashed, two men were confined to a hospital today.

James Noonan, Halifax business man and passenger on the plane which had been missing 36 hours, suffered fractures of the wrist and leg and Pilot James Wade sustained severe cuts when the ship landed on its side of frozen Oak Lake, 25 miles west of Halifax. A plane equipped with skis was used to bring the men here after they had been sighted from the air.

GARNER TO PUT NAME IN RACE ON WEST COAST

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17—Vice President John N. Garner will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president in the California primaries next May. This was announced in Los Angeles today by Zach Lamar Cobb and William R. Wallace, Jr., co-chairman of a statewide Garner organization, who said that Garner had wired them his approval of their plans to enter his name on the primary ballot.

Cobb and Wallace wired Garner that a statewide survey they have been conducting indicated he was "first choice of the rank and file Democrats in California" by even a larger margin than he received in California's vote on the national convention in 1932.

SEVEN DIVISIONS USED

Premier, Foreign Minister Plan London Flight During Week End

HELSINKI, Feb. 17 — Fighting with their backs to the main wall of the Mannerheim Line, Finns today planned a dramatic 11th hour appeal to the western democracies to save the republic from destruction.

With practically the whole first line of defense in Russian hands and the city of Viborg threatened, Finland's government arranged, it was understood, to send Premier Risto Rytty and Foreign Minister V. A. Tanner to London today or tomorrow.

Pointing to the imminent collapse of Finland's astounding defense, the statesmen will ask for immediate military aid from Britain and France.

The decision of Rytty and Tanner to fly to London came after a similar trip to Stockholm, where they pleaded in vain for outright assistance by Sweden.

Seven Divisions Used
Using at least seven divisions — about 140,000 men — in direct combat, with the aid of a vast array of 700 tanks, the Russians today concentrated their attempts to break the main Mannerheim Wall at two points—Summa and the Leningrad-Viborg railroad on the western side of the Carelian Isthmus.

Some accounts said the Russians already were in the town of Summa, which was partially levelled by constant artillery fire. But the Finns insisted that all the might of the Red army had failed to wrest the key town from them.

The deepest point reached by the Russians was believed to be about five miles inside the outer defenses of the Mannerheim Line.

A great pall of smoke hung over the flaming Summa front. In many places the Finns were not able to see the Russians, but only hear their cries and shots as the Reds advanced to the attack.

Finland's second largest city, the port of Viborg, was imperilled by the second large Russian drive. Moscow claimed capture of Lepaesus and Kaemaerae, two Finnish towns on the Viborg railroad.

(A Moscow communique said 22 more Finnish fortifications had been taken, bringing the total to 175 forts since the big push on the) (Continued on Page Eight)

Race for Sheriff's Job Draws Many Democrats

Pickaway County is moving gradually toward one of the hottest political races it has seen for some years for any particular office with seven already in the race for the Democratic nomination for sheriff.

The seven declared to be "in" the campaign include several who are as yet doubtful, but if all who have petitions file them the campaign will be a real one. Sheriff Charles Radcliff has announced his decision to run again, and John G. Ward, Jr., who opposed the incumbent the first time he ran, has obtained his petition. Edgar F. Mauger of Washington Township is the first person to file his nominating petition. Lawrence Johnson, clerk of the board, announcing Friday that Mauger's petition had been submitted.

COAST GUARDSMEN SAVE 10 MEN ON FISHING BOAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—Battling rough seas, the coastguard cutter Tahoe took into tow early today the fishing dragger Palmer's Island which, with 10 men aboard, had been buffeted since Wednesday's blizzard with a disabled propeller in the Atlantic.

The Tahoe found the fishing dragger, which radioed yesterday that she needed immediate assistance, about 120 miles south of Block Island, R. I., and now is towing it into New Bedford, Mass. In reporting to headquarters the Tahoe indicated all the dragger's crew were safe but said nothing concerning possible injuries.

G. O. P. TO MEET IN QUAKER CITY

Philadelphia Selected As Convention City; Open Contest Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 — Republican leaders, after voting for a June 24 national convention in Philadelphia, today predicted the most wide-open race in the party's history for the G. O. P. presidential nomination.

While Republican national committeemen insisted that the choice of Philadelphia at their meeting yesterday had no political significance, they believed that Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio had the most delegates pledged to date, with District Attorney Thomas Dewey of New York and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan running close behind.

One party leader said, however, that he doubted whether any of the three had 200 delegates he could absolutely command. It was voted at the meeting yesterday to allow 1,000 delegates at the convention. As a result, there was a big bloc of delegates still open, including those who will vote for "favorite sons" on the first ballot. Because of that, the most lively voting in convention history was in prospect at Philadelphia.

Taft was reported gaining strength in the South. Offsetting that as far as the Dewey camp was concerned was the New Yorker's new found support in the) (Continued on Page Eight)

BRUNETTE FILM ACTRESS FREE OF HUSBY'S FAMILY

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17—Rosalind Keith, girlish brunette screen actress, was free of marital bonds today. She was granted a divorce from Clarence Mellor, studio cameraman.

"I don't feel I am divorcing my husband so much as I am divorcing his family," she told the judge who granted her the decree. "He was very spasmodic in his affections to say the least. One moment he would be very loving, and the next cruel and cold."

"He had been living with his mother and sister for 36 years before our marriage last March. They exerted great influence over him. He would visit them and when he returned, he would accuse me of not loving him and planning to leave him."

Miss Keith, who is 23, separated from her husband three weeks ago.

BERLIN ANGERED

400 Seamen Declare They Were Treated Severely

LONDON, Feb. 17—British destroyers rescued between 300 and 400 merchant seamen from the German "prison ship" Altmak off the western coast of Norway, it was announced today.

Carrying Britons taken from ships sunk during the adventurous career of the Admiral Graf Spee—later scuttled off Montevideo—the Altmak was surprised as she raced down the coast of Norway in an attempt to return to the Reich.

Using her deck guns, the German boat put up some resistance before the destroyers were able to get alongside and take off the prisoners, who are due at a Scottish port today.

The Altmak, it was reported, had a secret armament of three six-inch guns.

(Firing by the Altmak and the British destroyers, one of which was the Intrepid, apparently gave rise to Norwegian accounts of a sea fight yesterday. This episode presumably led to the reported battle today in which, according to Copenhagen dispatches, a German warship of 10,000 to 15,000 tons was sunk or grounded.)

No Trouble Reported

Admiralty representatives at the Scottish port, where the Britons are expected, said the transfer from the Altmak was effected without trouble. They described the destroyers' action as "very fine indeed."

LONDON — The center of an important gathering of American diplomats, the United States legation at Tallinn, Estonia has been the scene of intense diplomatic activity during the last few days, according to a broadcast of the Moscow official radio, picked up today by Reuters. Present in Tallinn, the radio said, are Laurence A. Steinhardt, ambassador to Russia; Winthrop S. Greene, secretary of the Stockholm legation; and John C. Wiley, minister to Latvia and Estonia.

BERLIN — "Several prisoners were taken by a scouting party southwest of Saarbruecken," the German war communique said today. "Sporadic but lively mutual machine gun and rifle fire was heard on the Upper Rhine sector. A German pursuit plane shot down a (British) Bristol-Blenheim plane over the North Sea."

LONDON — Implying that all British merchantmen must be armed, the admiralty today announced that British ships "must provide their personnel with protection against aircraft bombing and machine gun attacks before leaving any United Kingdom port."

HOPE FADES FOR PASSAGE OF TAX BILL IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 — The possibility of congress enacting a new tax bill to raise $460,000,000, as suggested by President Roosevelt, faded today as the congressional economy campaign continued and treasury officials grew optimistic over prospect of increased tax payments.

Chairman Doughton of North Carolina of the house ways and means committee, which inaugurates all tax bills, indicated the tax question will be shoved aside.

"It looks like we won't have a tax bill this year," said Doughton, after the house had slashed more than $100,000,000 from the budget estimates for the navy.

"I am very hopeful that there will be no necessity for tax increases at this time. I don't know of anyone in congress who is anxious to pass a tax bill."

A canvass of the ways and means committee revealed virtually solid opposition to considering new taxes during a period of rising business. Many members frankly expressed fear that loading a new burden of taxation on business would slow down recovery.

With passage of the naval supply bill, the house had cut more than $300,000,000 under budget estimates in passage of six appropriation bills. Leaders of the "economy bloc" are hopeful of making further savings in bills yet to be considered.

UNBEATEN TEAM FORCED TO END BY HOGAN CREW

Score Deadlocked When Star Leaves, But Other Boys Carry On To Win

WASHINGTON '5' DRUBBED

Bulldog Lassies Keep Fast Pace To Turn Back Monroe Lassies

Pickaway Pirates, county tournament favorites because of their season's record, came through the second round of the annual competition Friday evening at the Atlanta school by the skin of their respective teeth to move into the semi-final stage of the meet. The Pirates, matched in practically every department by Paul Hogan's battling Scioto Township lads, came through in the last four minutes of their contest to win 38-33.

With four and one-half minutes to play the teams were tied at 32-32 and Pickaway had just lost George Wilson, offensive and defensive star, on personal fouls. Things looked bad for Pickaway, but Rhodes and Immelt came through with buckets to keep the Pirates in the van. Warren Beers, splendid center of the Scioto team, left the floor half a minute after Wilson took his exit, weakening the Scioto team just when it appeared that the Commercial Point lads might pull the tournament's biggest upset.

Guards Aid Pirates Ability of the Pickaway guards to hit the net brought the Pirate victory. Immelt and Leist adding 14 points to the winning team's total. Wayne Beavers was Scioto's best with 15 points, Beers getting nine.

New Holland carried off a doubleheader, the Bulldog boys' and girls' teams gaining advantages over Washington Township and Monroe Township, respectively.

The upset of the Washington team surprised many who had expected the losing team to go somewhere, but New Holland put on a drive at the first whistle that didn't stop until the final buzzer sounded. Washington's offensive and defensive setups collapsed before the Bulldog team.

The half-time ended 26-6. Stout was top man for New Holland with 15 points.

New Holland's first substitute entered the game with the score 43-9 and the second team came in with two minutes to play with the score 47-12.

The Bulldog lassies put on a splendid exhibition to turn back the scrappy Monroe girls, 16-13. The game was well played and was close throughout. New Holland leading 10-7 at the half.

Games tonight include Ashville against Deer creek at 7 o'clock. Darby against Ashville girls at 8 o'clock and Monroe against Jackson at 9 o'clock.

McKechnie Uses System In Drilling His Stars

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17—Spring training serves two purposes for a major league ball club. It is the period the players use to work themselves into perfect playing condition, and it also is the means of permitting the managers to look at young ball players whose prospective possibilities earn them an opportunity to go to a big league camp.

Bill McKechnie of the Reds has his own peculiar style of conditioning a ball club. His theory in regard to pitchers is different than that of any other manager, for the Deacon has his hurlers start the very first day throwing curves. He reasons that a player should not strengthen the muscles used in throwing fast balls before starting on curves, but should strengthen all muscles simultaneously, thereby reducing to a minimum the possibility of a sore arm.

In past seasons, part of McKechnie's general policy has been to work his prospective regulars in most of the exhibition games. This accounts for the Reds winning the Grapefruit championship in 1938.

Last year, Bill deviated slightly. He asked for more exhibition games and gave the raw recruits a greater opportunity to show what they could do. This proved to be a highly satisfactory procedure and now we find a full spring schedule and an influx of youngsters on the Red roster who are sure to see plenty of service. The early spring won and lost record of the Reds is certain to suffer from permitting the boys to get into action, but, still, it might be the means of developing another Gene Thompson, whose first eye lifting achievements last year came in one of the early games when he and Whitey Moore teamed up to pitch a no-hit Grapefruit League game against the Dodgers.

The success McKechnie had

KANSAS RUNNER HOPES TO WIN BAXTER EVENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 — Glenn Cunningham — the man with the thinning hair, barrel-like chest and thin-shouldered legs—will make another determined bid to register his first major victory of the season in the Baxter mile at the N. Y. A. C. games in Madison Square Garden tonight.

A year ago they were calling him the old master, the peerless miler, the runner of the ages, and other extravagant phrases. Today they are saying he is all washed up.

"It's a little tough to be called a has-been," said the Kansan ruefully, "when a fellow can turn in a 4:07.7 mile as I did at the Millrose games.

"I wonder if people realize that that time has been surpassed only three times, outdoors and indoors, in the history of racing?

"It is not that I have slowed down to any appreciable extent but rather that some of these young fellows like Chuck Fenske and Lou Zamperini have come along with a tremendous rush.

"I'm not any slower but they are much faster than they were. Why, that 4:07.7 mile would have made me a winner by at least 50 yards in most of fastest races ever run! And yet all that got me was a second to Chuck Fenske's 4:07.4.

"As a matter of fact, I think my average times this year will compare with my races in previous years. Maybe I'll catch these lads tonight."

Tigers Take Two-Point Edge Over Oak Hill

RED AND BLACK IN SECOND WIN IN TWO NIGHTS

Harold Smith Connects For 16 Points; Defeat Third For Jackson Team

There is good reason for the fact that Roy Black's hair is becoming a little more gray on top and that it is thinning out considerably. His Circleville High Tigers knocked off another basketball game Friday evening with Oak Hill's fine team as the victim, and the difference in the scores was just two points, the final tally being 38 to 36.

Thursday evening his boys presented to him a 37-35 margin over Grove City. Close scores like these are enough to speed up the heart beat, and the Red and Black has been in its share of close ones this year many times over.

Oak Hill had lost only two contests in 16 starts when the Tiger athletes, somewhat tired from their gruelling Grove City tilt of the night before, started their trek into the Jackson County hill country. The game started fast and continued that way to its end. The Tigers led 14-12 at the end of the first period and 23-20 at halftime. The third period found both teams showing effects of the pace and only eight points were scored, five by Circleville and three by Oak Hill. The last quarter started with Circleville leading 28-23. Oak Hill pulled close in this session, but couldn't quite catch the speedy Red and Black.

Circleville lost Davis on personal in the final half.

Smith Hits for 16 Harold Smith, diminutive forward, was the ace in the Tiger offensive department coming through with 16 points on seven buckets and three free tosses. Davis added nine, all in the first half; Walters hit for four, Bowsher for seven and Staley for two. Jenkins, who did not start, was Oak Hill's best although Dunn, a guard, came through with eight and Silvery, a forward, with six. Silvery missed four consecutive free tosses in the last half to help the Tiger cause.

The victory gives the Red and Black nine victories and eight defeats so far for the season. The Alumni will be met Tuesday evening in a Band Uniform benefit game and Greenfield McClain on the latter's fine court will end regular season festivities next Friday. Then the Tigers will point toward the Central District tournament to be started the next week end at Delaware.

Statistics Checked

In the 17 games played by the Red and Black nine have been decided by two points or less, the Tigers winning four of these close ones and dropping five. Another was dropped by four points and another was won by three. In only two of the Tigers' eight defeats has the winning team's margin been more than four points, Greenfield and Upper Arlington running up bigger scores.

Total points scored so far this year include 572 for the Tigers and 563 for the opponents.

ROOKIE PITCHER JOINS LAW AND HIS BASEBALL

BOSTON, Feb. 00—To most baseball players a career in the hand is worth two in the bush but not to Tom Early, 21-year-old rookie pitcher of the Boston Bees.

Although he recently completed his first season of major league ball and his future seems as assured as interest payments on a government bond, Tom is busy mapping out an alternative course in life.

After conferring with Boston college officials the big black-haired youngster mapped out a college course which will dovetail with his diamond duties. And once he has completed his college course Tom plans to go on and obtain a law degree.

New Speed Skating King, Roukema, Making Folks Forget Vander Meer

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 17—A year and a half ago a Dutch lad named Johnny Vander Meer from nearby Midland Park skyrocketed to fame by pitching two consecutive no-hit, no-run games for the Cincinnati Reds.

And now, another young Dutchman, 21-year-old Johnny Roukema from suburban Prospect Park, Vander Meer's birthplace, is stealing eastern headlines with his ice skating exploits.

Roukema, who skates only on week days because he is a firm believer in the church, as are all Hollanders in his native town, recently won his second consecutive international inter-city skating championship in a meet held at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Born Abroad

A husky platinum-headed speedster, Roukema was born in the Netherlands, but has been in this country since he was two and one-half years old. He skated for the first time when 11 and won the first race he ever entered at 14.

His first important victory, however, was registered in 1936 when he won the boys' Intermediate Silver Skates championship in New York. His next victory was in the one-mile Middle Atlantic championships at Newburgh, N. Y., on January 1, 1937. A year later he finished second to Eddie Schroeder, Olympic star, in the same meet.

By February, 1938, Roukema began to attract the attention of eastern skate critics and shortly after the first of the month he won the New York senior men's two-mile Silver Skates crown.

Wins Big Race

Eligible to compete in the International Inter-City two-mile race a year ago, Roukema faced a field which included Del Lamb and Ken Bartholomew of Minneapolis, Armin Masses of Chicago, Vince Bozich of Detroit and others. The "Platinum Flash" took the lead near the end of the race only to be pushed aside by a trio of western skaters who crossed the finish line ahead of him. The judges disqualified the trio, however, and declared Roukema the winner.

Happy over the victory, Johnny lost no time in making plans to win in 1940. But he wanted to

BUCKS TO PLAY WISCONSIN FIVE IN LEAGUE TILT

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17 — Ohio State University meets Wisconsin in a Big Ten basketball game in the Fairgrounds coliseum tonight but just who would be in the Buck lineup remained a matter of speculation today. Coach Harold Olsen said he was undecided just what combination would start the game. Ohio has won three and lost three in Western Conference competition while the Badgers have won two and lost four.

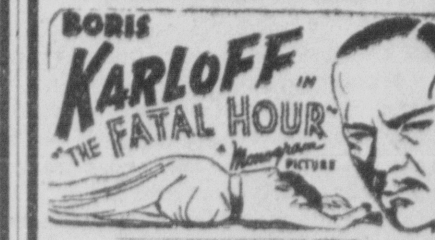

SCARECROW ON WAY OUT WORCESTER, Mass.—The old-fashioned scarecrow, familiar figure in farmers' cornfields, is threatened with oblivion. Modern science has produced a dry powder which, the manufacturers claim, repels birds and rodents from planted corn, and is guaranteed not to retard the progress of the growing plant.

MINISTERS BRING FAMED LECTURER TO CITY FEB. 23

Dr. Roberta Ma, brilliant young Christian Chinese educator and scientist who has spoken in many cities of the United States on behalf of the China Relief program will be heard in Circleville at the First Methodist Church Friday, February 23, at 7:30 p. m.

Her appearance is sponsored by the Pickaway County Ministerial Association of which the Rev. L. C. Sherburne of St. Philip's Episcopal Church is president.

Dr. Ma is a native of North China. She was born in Chefoo, Shantung Province, the daughter of Christian parents. Her father was a doctor and her mother a teacher. Her parents died when she was quite young and she was educated in a mission school in Shanghai. In 1921 Miss Ma came to the United States and entered the University of Texas, specializing in plant physiology and soil bacteriology, having decided that with her talent for science she could best serve her native land, China, in the field of agriculture. While at the University of Texas her life was deepened and her Christian faith strengthened through her American friends, she states. She became a member of the Baptist Church.

Back To China In 1930
Having received the degrees B.A., M.A., and Ph. D., Dr. Ma returned to China in 1930, where she began her teaching career in several of the leading universities. She taught first in Yenching University, the great Christian missionary university in Peking, and was active in the leadership of the Y.W.C.A. in that city. Then she accepted teaching positions in several Government and mission universities and became Professor of Science at Sun Yat-Son University in Canton. In all, she served in three sections of China and was a staff member of the Education Department of Kwangsi Province.

In 1937, Canton, where she was teaching, was bombed. Dr. Ma was deeply touched by the sufferings of the refugees and war victims. She saw many thousands sick, wounded, homeless, and without funds or any means of support, so she decided to come at her own expense, to the United States to do everything in her power to enable Americans to realize the desperate plight of her countrymen. She has given her time and energy ever since, speaking in behalf of China Relief.

Widely Read Author
Dr. Ma has been a guest speaker under the auspices of the Church Committee for China Relief for the last year and has made a deep impression in many cities in her addresses in churches, schools, colleges, luncheon clubs, and other organizations. Dr. Ma is the author of "China Calls," which was published in Richmond, Virginia, last year and has been widely read. Proceeds from the sale of this book are donated by Miss Ma toward the support of Chinese orphanages.

Dr. Ma appears in Chinese dress at her lectures. She speaks with fluent command of the English language.

METHODISTS TO GATHER THURSDAY IN COLUMBUS

A convale of the Methodist Advance Movement will bring Methodists from ten Ohio districts to Memorial Hall in Columbus for an all day meeting on Thursday February 22.

Bishops J. Lloyd Decell, Birmingham; Ivan Lee Holt, Dallas; A. P. Shaw, New Orleans and Lester Smith, Cincinnati will be present during the day and deliver several addresses.

Two luncheons are scheduled and both will receive a message from one of the visiting bishops. The luncheon at the Broad Street Methodist Church at which Dr. Frank G. Fowler, superintendent of the White Cross Hospital will preside, will hear Bishop Shaw. Bishop Decell will speak at the luncheon at the YWCA where Dr. H. J. Burgstahler will preside.

During the morning session of the meeting Bishop Holt will speak on "Deeper Need" and Bishop Decell's theme will be "Aim of the Methodist Advance". "Evangelism" will be the subject of Bishop Shaw in his afternoon address. Donald Barrs, Coshocton Calvary Methodist Church, will speak on "Youth and the Methodist Advance" in the evening and Bishop Shaw will bring another message to the assembly.

In the interests of the White Cross Hospital representatives of the Chillicothe district churches will meet at Adelphi at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Parish: Adelphi Official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 20; Laurelville Official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 21; Hallsville official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 23; Haynes Official Board, 7:30 p. m., February 24.

SPECIAL LENTEN RITES, OTHER SERVICES LISTED

United Lenten services are being held in the Tarlton churches as combined services will be held each Friday night. Presbyterian, Lutheran and Methodist churches are co-operating in the enterprise. The first of the combined Friday services will be held in the Lutheran Church with the Rev. Mr. Wenrich speaking and the second will be at the Methodist Church with the Rev. Mr. Root officiating. Special evangelistic services will begin in the First United Brethren Church, at 7:30 Sunday, February 25. Services will be held each evening at that hour until March 10.

A candle light vesper service will be held at the United Brethren Church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 25, under the auspices of the Otterbein Guild. Emphasis is being placed on attendance by the young people of the congregation. Miss Louise May is the leader.

ADELPHI SCHEDULE
The following meetings are scheduled in the Adelphi Methodist

Good Citizens and Good Neighbors HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic is Mat. 22:15-23:39. The Golden Text being Matt. 22:39. "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.")

ONE THING in particular must strike readers of today's lesson, and that is the cleverness of Jesus' replies to His enemies. These enemies, Pharisees or priests, Sadducees, the religious political party, and the Herodians or followers of Herod, all refused to consider the idea of Jesus as the Messiah, and considered Him as a dangerous man and a heretic. They felt they must get rid of Him as quickly as possible. But they were afraid of the common people, whom they knew thought of Him as the Master and a prophet.

So these men tried to trap Him so that by His replies to their questions the people should lose faith in Him. They doubtless reasoned that He was an ignorant countryman who could easily be made to say just what they wanted Him to, and so give them an excuse for taking Him prisoner.

But no matter what questions these highly educated men put to Him, His answers always left them speechless and in the wrong. It was customary in those days for anyone who wished to question a rabbi to do so in public, no matter what he might be doing at the time. So the Pharisees and the Herodians banded together to decide on some question that He would not be able to answer satisfactorily, and which would offend the people. The Pharisees were a religious party, fanatical, and most of the rabbis and scribes came from that party. The Herodians were, as the name implies, followers of Herod.

Ask Concerning Tax
The question that they decided to ask Jesus concerned the tribute or poll tax which the Romans levied upon the Jews and which they hated. The Pharisees and Herodians addressed Jesus in most flattering terms, calling Him Teacher and saying they knew He was true and taught the way of God, etc.—a most hypocritical attitude for them to take who only wished Him ill. "Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar or is it not?" Jesus called for a Roman coin, and when it was brought He said, "Whose is this image and superscription?" "Caesar's," they answered. Then Jesus said, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's." His enemies had nothing to say to that answer, but slunk away.

Then the Sadducees came to Him. They, too, were an influential religious party, and they did not believe in the resurrection. The question they put was an absurd one, but they thought to trap Him, nevertheless. If the oldest of seven brothers married a woman and he died, leaving no children, it would be lawful for the brother next in age to marry the woman. If he did this, he too, died and she married each of the brothers in turn and all died and she herself finally passed away, in the resurrection, whose wife would she be? "Ye do err," said Jesus, "not knowing the scripture, nor the power of God. For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven." The Sadducees also went away marveling.

Lawyer Questions Him
Next a lawyer, a Pharisee, went to Him and asked Him what is the great commandment? And Jesus answered the man: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

These men drew Christ's anger because He knew, oh so well, that they were not sincere in apparently seeking knowledge. He saw through them and that they were trying to trap and mock Him, and he denounced them, calling them hypocrites. Insincerity always aroused the Lord's contempt.

These questions were asked our Lord during the last week of His life on earth. He realized that the people as a whole would not take His message and His warning, and He looked at the beautiful city of Jerusalem, and mourned over it in the touching words: "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! "Behold, your house is left unto you desolate."

"For I say unto you, Ye shall not see Me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." Jesus never taught again. The scribes and Pharisees—hypocrites, He called them—had no more chance to receive Him and His message, and His Jerusalem was truly left desolate and the Jewish people were scattered.

Good Citizens and Good Neighbors ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Trying to trap Jesus, the Pharisees and followers of Herod gathered together to talk over and decide what questions they should ask Him that would make the people hate Him.

These men went to Jesus and asked Him concerning the hated poll-tax that the Romans levied on the Jews. His answer was: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

The Sadducees then had their turn, asking the Lord a question concerning marriage laws in heaven, but Jesus told them in heaven there was neither marriage nor giving in marriage.

Having silenced His enemies, Jesus looked mournfully toward Jerusalem, foreseeing its downfall because the people would not listen to Him. (GOLDEN TEXT—Matt. 22:39)

NEAR-EAST PREPAREDNESS
IT'S about time for another crop of readers to tackle Lawrence of Arabia's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom." That book is strong meat, but a lot of Americans have found it worth while merely as a remarkable piece of writing and a colorful picture of the Arabian campaign in the last war. Now, a quarter of a century later, the whole Near East becomes alive again with marching troops and martial spirit.
The Arabs now seem to be British allies. Old hostilities are forgotten. Like the British and French, they have made peace with the Turks, and the whole Near East rises together, prepared for—what?
It looks like mere self-defense against Germany and Russia and protection for the Balkans. There might be a strategic attack on Russia to divert Stalin from his northern campaign and save the Finns. In any case, it will be worth watching.

SCHOOL CHIMES
In a large public school recently the clanging bells that formerly sounded the signal for dismissal, recess, and change of class have been replaced by melodious chimes. Although the bells were in the halls they made so much harsh noise that they were heard through closed doors and above the sound of voices reciting lessons. Unwary persons standing near them when they sounded were well-nigh deafened or frightened out of their wits.
The chimes, playing six notes, are operated automatically and heard through amplifiers in every room over a loudspeaker system. The results have been so satisfactory already that it is likely more schools will abandon the old bells.
"I've noticed quite a little difference in the way the pupils leave their class rooms since the chimes were installed," says the principal. "They seem much calmer."
If pupils are calmer, no doubt teachers, too, are calmer. Such an attitude, prevailing in a school building, should improve the quality of the teaching and the learning, and end a few disciplinary problems automatically. Loud and harsh noises should be banned in schools as they are in hospitals and libraries.

The lily-painters and refined gold-gilders are now going to put a lovely chemical blush on the Grimes Golden apple. There ought to be a law!
It's getting to be front-page news when any man in public life declines to try for the presidency.

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . . —By— Charles P. Stewart

THE REPUBLICANS don't want anybody to get the idea that they're opposed to any legitimate program for governmental relief of unemployment, for the support of the deserving aged or otherwise needy, for farm help, for the making of opportunities for the incoming generation, and all that kind of thing. Congressman Joseph W. Martin, G. O. P. leader in the house of representatives, has been rubbing this notion in as vigorously as possible, on his recent speaking tour through the mid-west. He evidently realizes that it would be bad politics for his party to be advertised as favoring an abandonment of these and other New Deal socio-economic policies. What he does contend is that the New Deal has promoted them wastefully.
Well, HOW wastefully? Specific instances of this alleged wastefulness ought to be cited.
CASE OF CCC CITED
The Republican national committee recognizes as much. It starts off with the Civilian Conservation Corps, a set-up in youth's behalf. The theory is that "kids" should be mobilized for reclamation work, thus being trained into first-class citizenship.
The Republican committee doesn't dispute the merits of the concept. However, it maintains that a lot of city youngsters don't care to be drafted for that kind of employment. It quotes figures to show that, in urban and semi-urban neighbors, boys don't join the CCC nearly as fast as recruits are desired.
"Why, then," queries the committee, "vote federal funds for, say, 100 CCC youths, with 25 vacancies on the list already?"
The critics haven't got around yet to other agencies, but that's an illustration. Their figures may be available. However, such is their line of argument.
Their hope is, not that the administration has been altogether wrong in principle, but that it's overdone matters, at needless expense.
GANNETT'S CAMPAIGN
Few politicians take Publisher Gannett's campaign for the Republican presidential campaign very seriously.
But politicians do take deep thought as to the origin of his aspirations. Their surmise is that his candidacy may have been inspired by Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York.
Wadsworth himself is semi-potential material. He's a very able congressman. His background is first rate, too. His father was a senator before him. Later he also was in the senate for a while, but subsequently lapsed into the house of representatives. There he's been recognized by his fellow legislators as an outstanding individual in their own particular midst in the has substantial influence in the Empire state, but as yet the country at large isn't much acquainted with him. What he needs is adver-

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN.
WELLES PEACE MISSION
WASHINGTON—Inside fact regarding Sumner Welles' trip to Europe—which starts today—is that it was conceived on the spur of the moment. Roosevelt didn't know, and his Under Secretary of State had no idea up until two or three days before he announced it, that anyone would take a trip on behalf of peace.
The President, however, was convinced that things were bound to break very badly in Europe by spring, and he wanted to head it off if there was any way conceivably possible.
So the Sumner Welles trip was calculated to be something like the public peace messages which Roosevelt sent to Hitler, Mussolini, et al, before Munich and before the Polish crisis, by which he sought to postpone war. Similarly, the Welles pilgrimage is intended to hold out enough hope for peace to stave off civilian bombings, mass attacks upon the Westwall, and other horrors from which so far this war has been free.
Even if there is no peace, Roosevelt hopes the Welles mission may start Europe talking, and the longer they talk, the longer is postponed the bitterness bound to engulf both sides if war becomes really intensive.
Roosevelt is superstitious about too much advance preparation. He thinks that the usual pourparlers spoil an important diplomatic move. So he decided to send Welles off immediately. Not even the French and British ambassadors learned of it until a few hours before the press.

BACKGROUND OF PEACE
While this was the immediate springboard to the Welles mission, actually there is a much longer and more important background. That background can be divided roughly into three parts:
1. Roosevelt's genuine dream for peace, a dream toward the fulfillment of which he has worked consistently since before the war broke.
2. Roosevelt's fear that even with the United States on the side-lines, the world's disrupted war economies will turn New Deal reforms topsy-turvy. (For instance, the present curtailment of British cotton and tobacco purchases, which will hurt millions of Southern farmers, while aviation factories in the North and West will declare lush dividends.)
3. Roosevelt's fear that eventually, and despite the neutrality act, the United States will be drawn in. This last work is more acute at this moment than appears on the surface, and is one important reason for the timing of the Welles pilgrimage.

TWO NEW WAR FRONTS
All the confidential information received by the State Department points to the probability of major hostilities starting on two new war fronts this spring or summer. These fronts are (a) a new Scandinavian attack by Sweden and Norway against Russia; (b) a British and French attack upon South Russia and the Baku oil fields through the Caucasus.

Where the Doctors Select Their Patients
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
MY COLLEAGUES in the United States are terribly perturbed about the possibilities of socialized medicine. It might comfort my fellow physicians to see how smoothly it works in Mexico, where I saw many things of medical interest on my recent southern jaunt.
There was a phantasy in one of Samuel Butler's notebooks which described a topsy-turvy situation in which, instead of cooks applying to housewives for positions, the mistresses applied to the cooks. And the understanding and good-tempered mistress got the beautiful and accomplished cook. In our land the patients select their physicians, and the physicians do not always want the ones they get. But in enlightened Mexico the physicians select their patients, and they are allowed to treat the diseases in which they are most interested.
Idea on Fatigue
I noticed what I thought was a very sensible attitude of the Mexican laborer to fatigue. I saw an old man carrying a bundle on his head, and all of a sudden the "afternoon let-down" seemed to get him. He just squatted down in a doorway, rested his bundle, and fell fast asleep. I understand that here, up north, the idea prevails in some offices that when the afternoon let-down occurs, the office force is mustered and put through some exercises to wake them up. The poor things go back to work even more tired than before the restorative was applied. How much better it would be, instead of further fatiguing them or recommending a jolt of some awakening concoction at the soda fountain, to provide couches for them and allow a 20-minute snooze! I wager the work would be done twice as well after that as after an exercise period.
I went among people in Yucatan that were on as low a level of civilization as I have ever seen. They live in and off the jungle—they build their houses of straight sticks and thatch; they go barefoot; they eat the bananas and fruit which grow wild and hunt the wild turkey and the deer. I must say they looked a very healthy lot.
No Rickets
I must have seen a thousand little children, going around almost naked, and in that land of sunshine I saw not one case of rickets. "Foot imbalance" seemed to be unknown. And the mouths I examined, which had not the benefit of tooth brushes or tooth paste, were filled with gloriously shining natural dentures.

Divine intervention in disease is an article of implicit faith with most of the population around Mexico City. The shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe is the only healing shrine I ever visited. Outside the churches they sell little silver votive offerings shaped in the form of the part that is diseased. Before the cathedral I found only arms and legs. The healer there must specialize in orthopedics. But the Virgin of Guadalupe is a general practitioner, for there were votives of hands, ears, eyes, hearts, and the domestic animals; prayers could be made for a sick pig, donkey, cow, cat, dog—even for an automobile.

East should have read his partner as having at least five trumps, as if declarer held six he would have rebid them before showing diamonds. Though a fourth round of hearts might have furnished a ruff and discard for the declarer, that danger was not so great as the one of jeopardizing his partner's trump holding by not leading them.
Returning hearts then would have set the contract two tricks instead of one.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
CHOLLY HAD been on the air only a week when Pee Wee Tyler, having flown home for a week-end from the private school she attended in New York, saw her picture in the Chicago Globe.
Startled, she read the caption: "The air waves welcomed this new beauty, Cholly O'Neil, pianist, this week. Miss O'Neil, red-headed, blue-eyed Irish charmer, will sell syrup. Another sure fire bet for television. She hails from Indiana U."
Syrup! That could mean only one thing. The Hayworths were sponsoring her. Furiously, Pee Wee threw the paper away and got up. If Dove had gone so far as to put his red-head on the air on her own program, it looked serious. She had flown home more to see Dove Hayworth than anyone else. She wanted to bring things to an issue.
Mrs. Hayworth was as anxious as the Tylers for her only son and Natalie to marry. The plump dowager positively fawned over her. The Hayworths hadn't the social background of the Tyler clan, but they had a lot more money. In fact, the Tylers were having a terrific struggle to keep up their end socially.
It would be absolutely necessary for Natalie to marry wealth or they would be penniless in a few years. That had been made very clear to the debutante daughter.
Natalie called Mrs. Hayworth and got herself invited to tea that afternoon. The Hayworths were in their penthouse in town for the winter months. Mrs. Hayworth greeted Pee Wee with warm affection.
"Darling!" She kissed the cool cheek of the young girl. "I never would have forgiven you if you had come home for the week-end and hadn't dropped in to see an old lady."
"Old lady!" scoffed Natalie, as a butler assisted her with her mink coat. "You positively look shamefully young. You know you do!"
Mrs. Hayworth, with an arm around Natalie, led her to a chair beside the open fire in the library. "It's cozier in here," she said down beside the tea table. "And we can have a nice little talk."
"Isn't Dove home?" Natalie asked, with just the proper touch of disappointment in her voice.
"No," Mrs. Hayworth poured a cup of tea and handed it to Pee Wee. "I've been phoning all over for the rascal. He'll be terribly disappointed. But I'll have him phone you at home as soon as he comes in, if you're going to be there."
Natalie sighed.
"Oh, he probably won't get in. I hear he's been very busy socially."
"Oh, yes," Mrs. Hayworth smiled, "but it doesn't mean anything. He's just marking time till you're through school."
She said it teasingly, but Natalie was wise enough to know she was supposed to take it seriously.
"From what I've heard," Natalie gave her hostess a sad little smile—"he hasn't much time to think of poor little me. Out of sight, out of mind."
Mrs. Hayworth looked at her questioningly.
"What have you heard, Natalie?"
"Oh, I mustn't gossip," Natalie straightened in her chair, Mrs.

"Why Natalie! Tell me more about it," exclaimed Mrs. Hayworth. Hayworth encouraged her with: "Oh, now that isn't gossiping, dear. Surely you know how we feel about you. Come, dear, let's be frank. What is it you've heard? Nothing very serious, I'm sure." Natalie began uncertainly: "I—well, I guess you know how I feel about Dove. He—he's such an old friend. I've been worried about him since last fall. One night he brought a red-headed actress on the yacht—to his birthday party." "A red-headed actress!" Mrs. Hayworth's brown eyes opened in shocked surprise. "Why Natalie! Tell me more about it." "She was a piano player in a music store," Natalie went on, hesitating properly for effect. "A crude person if I've ever seen one. But pretty in the way some of those ordinary girls are. She made a terrific play for Dove and he seemed to sort of fall for her." "What do you mean, fall for her?" Mrs. Hayworth's face was troubled. "He took her home instead of me. Of course I was terribly embarrassed." "The idea!" Mrs. Hayworth shook her white head violently. "These boys! I do try to understand. But when there are so many nice, pretty girls in their own class to associate with, I don't see why they have to pick girls up from just any place and go out with them." Natalie smiled tolerantly. "Oh, well, I guess men are all pretty much alike. I didn't think much about it until I saw the paper today. I thought probably Dove would just take her home and that would be the last of it." "The paper, Mrs. Hayworth sat up, alarmed. "What do you mean?" "Oh, dear, I didn't mean to worry you. But you know your new morning radio program?" "Yes I've been listening. I think it's very nice." Natalie broke in: "Well, I'm sure you won't when you find out who the pianist is. It's that same girl!" "Oh!" Mrs. Hayworth's mouth formed a shocked oval. "Oh! I see." "Please," Pee Wee implored hastily, "don't let Dove know I told you. Mrs. Hayworth. I guess I shouldn't have. But I'm afraid I'm

Thirty Friends Invited
To Party at Mader Home

Spring Flowers
Fill Tables
For Affair

Vases of lovely spring flowers, including sweet peas and daffodils, centered the small tables where 30 guests were served Friday when Mrs. Ella Hornbeck and Mrs. Henry Mader of Pinckney Street were joint hostesses at a bridge luncheon.

Valentine place cards and tallies completed the party appointments of the attractive tables.

Mrs. John Bennett of Circleville carried off the trophy for high score, Mrs. Florence Duvendeck and Mrs. Edward S. Anderson of Williamsport winning second and third favors in the games of progressive contract bridge.

One table of Chinese checkers was in play with the prize going to Mrs. C. E. Hill of Williamsport.

The guest list included friends from Circleville, Williamsport and Chillicothe.

Presbyterian Social Club
Speaking on the subject of "Early American Glass," Mrs. R. R. Bales presented an unusually interesting talk before the members and visitors of the Women's Social Club of the Presbyterian Church Friday in the social room. About 60 were present and became glass conscious as the speaker revealed the romance of its history.

Showing a thorough study of her subject, Mrs. Bales unfolded the historical background of its discovery by accident about 2500 B. C., told of its necessary constituents, such as hardness, clearness, weight and tone, and of the elements essential to its manufacture, alkali and silica.

She opened the eyes of the audience to the many uses of glass in everyday life and in contrast said that many of our earliest settlers were born, lived and died without having seen or known of it.

She mentioned the first attempt at its manufacture in this country as being the making of crude bottles in Jamestown about 1609, and said the first real use found for it was the manufacture of beads in bright colors for barter with the Indians.

Mrs. Bales told of the three periods of glass, naming them as Wister, Steigal and Sandwich. She continued her talk by telling the types of articles manufactured during each of these periods.

Many fine pieces of glass were displayed at the meeting, the different patterns and kinds being discussed during the hour following the talk.

Mrs. G. G. Campbell, president, opened the meeting by reading a delightful poem and closed the business session with an appropriate prayer. Mrs. Leland Pontius, secretary, presented her report preceding the program.

Light refreshments were served, fry in a white pottery holder flanked by tall red candles forming the centerpiece of the tea table.

Miss Florence Dunton headed the social committee which was comprised of Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Edward Stephens, Mrs. L. H. Mebs, Mrs. James H. Adams, Mrs. Loring Evans, Mrs. William Mack, Mrs. S. M. Cryder, Miss Mary Heffner and Miss Winifred Parrett.

The February session of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Church of the Brethren was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Weethee, South Court Street, the services opening with group singing of hymns. Scripture reading and a short prayer by Mrs. Harry Wood preceded the program. Two guests were present, Mrs. Harry Briner and Mrs. Charles Groom.

A hymn sung by Mrs. Briner, reading, "Birthdays in February," by Mrs. Lida Ward and a poem read by Mrs. Letha Essick constituted the program. Two contests and an exchange of Valentines were included in the entertainment.

Two aprons and two potholders, donated by Mrs. Earl Hall and daughter, Marjorie, were auctioned off during the meeting and the proceeds added to the treasurer's fund.

The next meeting which will be March 21, will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Wood, South Court Street.

Prayer by Mrs. Lida Ward closed the session.

Today's Menu

- Cold Roast Meat
- Scalloped Potatoes
- Buttered Broccoli
- Pickled Pineapple Slices
- Celery
- Cake with Chocolate Fudge Icing
- Tea or Coffee
- PICKLED Pineapple Slices — Combine one cup of the syrup from canned pineapple slices with one-fourth cup brown sugar, one-half teaspoon whole cloves, two pieces of stick cinnamon and one-fourth cup mild vinegar. Bring to boiling point. Add eight slices of pineapple. When boiling remove from heat and let pineapple remain in syrup over night if possible. May be sealed in sterilized jars while hot.

- Chocolate Fudge Icing — Ingredients: two ounces bitter chocolate (two squares), one-half cup water, one and one-half cups sugar, one tablespoon butter one-fourth teaspoon cream of tartar, four grains salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla, two tablespoons thick cream. Cut chocolate into small pieces. Put in saucepan with water. Heat together until chocolate is melted. Beat to blend thoroughly. Stir in sugar, butter and cream of tartar. Cook to the very soft ball stage, 234 F. Remove from heat and let stand undisturbed until lukewarm. Sprinkle salt and vanilla over the surface and beat until mixture will hold its shape. Thin with heavy cream to proper spreading consistency.

CLASSES STUDY "IDYLLS"

Sophomore English classes under the direction of Loren L. Pace have concluded the study of the essay, Samuel R. Johnson's "The Idylls of the King".

CLASS HOLDS DANCE

Friday at 4:00 the Junior class held its fifth tea dance.

Next week the class play committee plans to have made a selection.

TWENTY-SIX SEE
EVANS' "HAMLET"

"Gee I wish I could get out of school today"; "Those lucky kids, getting excused this afternoon." These are some of the comments heard Thursday from the three hundred and fifty odd pupils who didn't go to Columbus to see "Hamlet."

Twenty-five juniors and seniors and Miss Margaret Rooney attended the matinee performance of Maurice Evans' uncut version of the play. They found "Hamlet" to be an exciting and inspiring drama, much to the surprise of those who were somewhat prejudiced against Shakespeare's works when they entered the theatre. All agreed that the acting was excellent on the parts of stars and supporting players alike. Costumes were colorful, in contrast to the dark, gloomy settings of the palace.

Junior English classes are now finishing their study of "Hamlet," and senior classes read it in class last year.

GROUP RECEIVES
NEW SELECTIONS

For the past few weeks the high school orchestra, under the direction of C. F. Zaenglein, has been practicing several new selections.

Among the numbers received by the orchestra, are:

- March ..... Brochton
  - Festival March ..... von Weber
  - Spirit of the West,
  - March ..... Hummer
  - Golden Spur,
  - March ..... Weber
  - War March of the
  - Priests ..... Mendelssohn
  - Panorama, overture, Barnhouse
- Mr. Zaenglein stated that he has ordered more music and that it should be here for orchestra practice Tuesday afternoon.

B & O EXCURSION
TO BE APRIL 12

Recently it was announced in Circleville schools that a special educational tour to Washington, D. C. is being planned by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for April 12.

This excursion is exclusively for students, teachers, parents and chaperons. Leaving Friday, April 12, members of the group will spend all day Saturday in the capital, returning Sunday morning.

Any high school pupils or their friends may purchase tickets for this tour at $5.00 a round trip. Coupons for these tickets must be secured from the high school principal.

FIVE BOYS JOIN
LOCAL HI-Y CLUB

Monday evening at 7:30, the Hi-Y club accepted five new members into its club. The boys were picked from those who applied for membership recently. Lloyd Jones, James Shea, George Skaggs, Joe Staley and Charles Zaenglein are the new members selected.

At this meeting the club discussed plans for a formal initiation at the next meeting. Next Monday evening the club will formally accept the new members at a Father-Son dinner.

Various committees were appointed by the president to arrange the affair.

Tomorrow at 10:20 the Hi-Y club will attend the United Brethren church.

STOOGES ACCEPT
BURGET, MELVIN

Last Tuesday evening, the Stooze club held its weekly meeting at the home of Tom Dewey.

At this time two boys were voted into the club to fill vacancies therein. These boys were William Burget and Robert Melvin.

The Stooze club holds no formal or informal initiation. New members are, however, "stooged" or tapped "gently" on the head by old members the day after their admission to the club.

Members of the club decided to send Mrs. Frank Davis a box of candy for Valentine's day in appreciation of her work on the Stooze dinner.

CLUB MEMBERS
HAVE DISCUSSION

President Helen Beck, opened the regular meeting of the Poetry Club, Friday at 3:45. Miss Margaret Rooney, club adviser, and several members attended the matinee performance of Maurice Evans' presentation of "Hamlet". An informal discussion was held, and the girls expressed their impressions of the play.

In observation of Lincoln's birthday and Valentine's Day, members read and discussed patriotic and

UNIFORM DRIVE
SHOWS SUCCESS

Thus far, success has been the theme of the "Band Uniform Drive." The success of this movement has been made possible by the initiative of the committee in charge. It is only fit that the names of the members appear here.

With Ray Rowland, Chairman, and Frank Fischer, Secretary, the committee, Robert Colville, Frank Lynch, Elma Rains, Mrs. Allen Thornton, and C. F. Zaenglein, has been received cordially, wherever it has solicited.

Future events which will be held in connection with the uniform drive will be the Testimonial Dinner on February 29, and tag week during the week of February 26.

Questions have been asked members of the band as to the color selected for the uniforms. The color is to be "red and black," but as yet the committee in charge of selecting the type has not reported. However, they have narrowed their selection to either military or cadet suits.

RESERVES PLAN
THREE PROJECTS

Pat Bennett, vice president of the Senior Girl Reserves, opened the regular meeting Wednesday at 3:45. In the absence of the secretary, Mable Noggle read the roll call and minutes.

Regina Thornton announced that the music division of the club would have a tea, Wednesday February 21. Pat urged all members to attend this project.

Dramatic division decided to present a chapel program in the near future and to study dramatic literature.

Helen Beck, chairman of the literature group, read the minutes of the last meeting and told the club that the girls read "Goodbye Mr. Chips" by James Hilton. The girls in this division chose pen names.

Pat asked all members of the club to hand in any names of girls who wish to join the club before Tuesday, February 20.

Plans for enlarging the "Band Uniform Fund" were completed at this meeting. Miss Elma Rains, club adviser, announced that the "Tag Day" project would be held Saturday, February 24. Sr. Girl Reserves will be stationed on all corners at Court and Main Streets. Jeanne Kinney, Regina Thornton, Helen Beck and Pollyanna Friedman are in charge of four groups who will solicit donors.

After discussing the "Tag Day," project, the meeting was adjourned.

BAND PREPARES FOR FESTIVALS

During the preceding weeks much work has been accomplished by the high school band in anticipation of the festivals in which they will participate in the spring. Soloists have been rehearsing regularly at special practices held on Thursday evenings. The soloists to date are Pat Bennett, Clifford Kerns, Delbert Puckett, Robert Kline, Glenn Barnhart and William Glenn.

At the special practices for soloists the piano accompanists Ruth Bloom and Eleanor McDill have been present.

All the numbers that will be played at the concerts held at Mt. Vernon and Lancaster have arrived and may be handed out except "May Time" by Sigmund Romberg.

In connection with the pieces which have arrived, Mr. Zaenglein has called sections rehearsals on Thursdays afternoons. Last Thursday the reed section rehearsed.

SCANDAL SHEET
EDITORS NAMED

At the regular meeting of the E. M. S. Wednesday, the editor and assistant editor of the Scandal Sheet were named. Norma Brown, president, appointed Lloyd Jones editor, Mary Ruth Owens assistant editor. Lloyd then posted the assignment sheet.

A one-act play was presented by the drama division. The non-fiction division will present the program at the next meeting.

love poems. Harriet Walters was in charge of the program.

Next week poetry appropriate for Washington's birthday will be read.

EDITORIAL
COURTESY?

What is courtesy? It is politeness combined with kindness; respect.

How many of us are courteous—even kind or respectful? Very few of us are that thoughtful.

Courtesy is said to open more doors to a person than either appearance or intelligence. Since this is true why is there such a lack of it, particularly in our high school?

I believe that one reason for this lack is indifference. This indifference is found in various fields of our high school activities. We are indifferent in the class room. To some it makes no difference whether we have prepared our assignments or not. So we do not care whether our football or basketball teams wins or loses. It's sort of nice if it does and if it doesn't—well that's all right. We are not sufficiently interested to do something about it. After all, these contestants represent our school and we should be backing them one hundred percent.

Even in our school clubs we find this attitude of indifference. Not only club members but all the student body should be behind every worthwhile project any group undertakes.

Among a great many of our number there is an idea that it is smart to be discourteous. This is particularly true in the halls. We consider no one else's rights or desires.

We should learn that the world—even a high school world—wasn't created just for one individual, but for all of us.

The care and protection of the private property of others and of public property should be the concern of each individual. Not only should we see that our school building and books are not defaced, but we should take care, at all times, that our rooms are free of unnecessary scraps of paper, chalk, etc.

What can we do about this lack of courtesy? We can each one consider himself a committee of one whose business it is to see that he is always courteous, kind and thoughtful and to remind those of use who forget from time to time.

Let's try it for a week—then a month. By that time, we should all be so changed in our attitude, and conditions not only at school, but in the whole community would be so ideal we should none of us think of going back to the old way. Too idealistic, you say! Perhaps—but well worth striving to attain.

MEMBERS HOLD
DINNER TUESDAY

Instead of their regular meeting Tuesday, the Junior Girls' Glee club had a covered dish dinner. Dinner was served at 5:30 by the food committee which included Rosemary Huffer, Jean Imier and Eleanor Wiggins.

After dinner the entire club danced to recorded music which was provided by Mrs. Melvin Kiger and Janet Funk.

CIRCLE NEW

Thursday afternoon, there was no "Circle" editorial staff meeting because so many members attended "Hamlet". Write-ups of club activities were due at this meeting. Marilyn Lutz, editor, also urged that the snapshot division pages be handed in as soon as possible.

There is still a need of pictures for the snapshot pages. If you would like to see these pages appear in this year's annual, why not bring a camera to school and snap some of your friends?

SENIORS CHOOSE
CAPS AND GOWNS
FOR GRADUATION

At the senior class meeting, Tuesday after school, it was voted that the class of 1940 will graduate in caps and gowns. They decided to use navy blue as the gown color. The class colors are scarlet and gray. Definite arrangements will be made after the gown company representative comes March 18. At that time he will submit sample gowns in wool and gabardine, and gowns with or without a zipper. The seniors will vote on one of these materials and what color tassels will be used on their caps. He will also take the measurements of the graduates.

Also the class voted to hold Baccalaureate services at the Presbyterian Church this year. The date will be decided later. Commencement is scheduled for June 3. The seniors will wear their caps and gowns on both of these occasions.

The annual dedication will not be revealed until later.

Thomas Hardin, class president, presided over this meeting. Miss Margaret Mattinson is the class adviser.

LEAD IN LEAGUE

League play continued Tuesday at 5:00 with two games being scheduled. The first was a high-scoring game for one team and almost a shut-out for the other team. The Sophomore B team thoroughly defeated the eighth graders by a score of 55 to 8. Scoring during the evening was done by Paul Jackson with 18 points and Clifton close behind with 16. Jackson is second in the league in scoring with 119 points. Valentine was high for the losers with seven points.

In the second game of the evening, the Junior A handed the Freshman A a 32-20 beating. This game was featured by roughness on both sides. Goodchild was high-scorer for the Juniors and George Trego was best for the Frosh with eight points.

Wednesday evening at 5:00, another victory was added to the long list of the Junior B team. They defeated the Freshman B team by the score of 56-21. Sims and Goldsberry lead the scoring attack of the Juniors with 14 and 16 points respectively. McAbee proved best for the Frosh with eight points.

In the second game of the evening the Seniors surprised the Soph A team by leading all the way till the third quarter and then the upperclassmen had to forfeit because of no substitute for Shea who was ejected on fouls. However, when the game was called the Sophs were leading 25-21. Ted Moon sparked the Seniors with 15 points while Woods was again high for the Sophs with nine points. Woods is leading the league in scoring with a total of 136 points for nine games.

NEWARK GUESTS OF H S DEBATERS

Yesterday at 2:15, Circleville's affirmative debate team, Leland Siegwald and Paul Turner, won from a negative squad from Newark high school. The debate, third in league competition, was judged by J. G. Drushall, Capital University. The contest was given before a high school assembly in the auditorium.

To date Circleville has defeated Columbus East and lost to Washington C. H. in their league encounters. Next week the Circleville squad will close its season when the affirmative team journeys to Columbus West.

This year the debaters have a record of 21 wins, 13 losses and two non-decision meets to their credit on the debate subject "Resolved: The Federal Government Should Own and Operate the Railroads."

SPEAKER FAILS TO APPEAR WED.

Dr. Nicholas R. Doman, who was scheduled to speak to the high school Wednesday, February 14, did not arrive in time to appear before the student body.

Instead Dr. Doman spoke to the Rotary Club the same evening, in the high school social room.

Dr. Doman was the last in a series of speakers.

PUPILS ABSENT THURSDAY

Wayne township pupils were unable to attend classes Thursday due to the deep snow and icy roads.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

intend to do about these two situations. At present the Swedes have told the State Department that it will be impossible for them to stay out of war, and that they are ready to come to the defense of Finland immediately if they can count on some support from France and Britain.

This is why Roosevelt, in a conference with the War and Navy last week, favored the immediate sale of over-age U. S. warships to Sweden. He wanted them sold now, before Sweden became a belligerent and it was too late.

This also was the main subject of conversation at the Daladier-Chamberlain meeting last week. Daladier urged that the Allies support Sweden, thereby create a new front which might defeat Russia, would worry Germany.

Also under discussion is an attack by General Wiegand's Army of the Levant, now in Syria, against the Russian oil fields. Cutting off Russian oil would paralyze the Soviet army.

Wiegand's army is now 300,000 strong and among the finest troops of France. It has just been augmented by 30,000 Anzacs. All are confident that they could make short work of the Soviet army in the Caucasus.

Here is something significant: both of these proposed new fronts are aimed not against Germany, but Russia. This is in line with the old appeasement clique inside the British Cabinet, which thinks the war may be turned around so that Germany in the end will be found fighting on the Allied side against Russia.

This may be mere day-dreaming; but at least the groundwork for such a turn-about is now being laid by the plan to attack Russia from both north and south, leaving Germany aloof.

SUMNER WELLES, DIPLOMAT
It may be significant that Under Secretary Welles, the man who undertakes this, the most delicate and important mission since the days of Colonel House, always has been a devout believer that permanent peace depended upon a balanced Europe.

He has been emphatically opposed to the inequalities of Versailles. He believed that Germany had to be given raw materials, markets and a chance to breathe. Welles has been accused of going so far on this thesis, before Munich, that he was a definite "appeaser".

After Munich, however, he was not. He joined the Hitler-haters, and it is highly doubtful whether

LAURELVILLE

By Mrs. Paul Armstrong

Mr. and Mrs. Melrose Harbaugh entertained Sunday evening a group of friends with a turkey dinner at their home in Logan. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Grattidge, Merrill Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Archer.

Out of town relatives and friends who attended funeral services of William Saylor, 92, were Mrs. Aaron Will, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Will, Miss Miriam Will, Mrs. H. B. Hifter of McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. James Albin, Mrs. Stoffer of Jamestown, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ortman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ortman, Mrs. Charles Ortman, Mrs. Robert James, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vorus of Chillicothe, Mrs. Minnie White and Miss Janet White of Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sharp entertained a group of friends at their home on Sherman Street, Friday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of Marcellus Young. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sharp, Miss Mary Young, Harold Jinks, Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Young and son Roger, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp.

The School Women's Club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Miss Opal Wylie, Gibsonville.

Miss Grace Orr, the president, was in the chair during the business session. The minutes of the last meeting was read by the secretary, Miss Velva Brashares. A committee had written the by-laws and constitution and were read by the chairman, Miss Velva Brashares. The group voted to have meetings every two months and the price of the dinner fifty cents. The club was invited to Union Furnace for the April meeting, which will be held the first Thursday of April.

During the social hour group singing was enjoyed by thirty-three members with Miss Maxine Weinrich accompanist.

Teachers attending from Laurelville, South Bloomingville, and Salt Creek Township are Miss Ruth Strous, Miss Bernice Taylor, Miss Frances McClelland, Miss Marilla Thomas, Miss Maxine Weinrich, Mrs. Winnie Armstrong, Mrs. Nellie Westfall and Mrs. Golda Paxton.

Mrs. Belinda Fridy had the misfortune to fall in her backyard Saturday morning and break her left arm near the shoulder.

Mrs. Ernest F. Cox underwent an operation at Lancaster Hospital Monday.

Lloyd Armstrong returned from his Florida trip, Sunday. Mrs. Charles Armstrong is spending two or three weeks in Fort Myers, Fla., with Mrs. Myrtle Reichelderfer.

The members of the U. B. Ladies Aid Society were entertained at the home of Mrs. Nelson Karshner, Wednesday afternoon. The opening song was "He hideth My Soul", prayer by Rev. Stockman and the ninth Psalm was read by the president, Mrs. Ida Defenbaugh. A short business session followed. The regular meeting date was Thursday but on account of Mrs. Karshner's birthday anniversary on Wednesday the group planned a surprise for her.

Mrs. Anna Lytle and Mrs. Darrel Karshner of Lancaster, Mrs. Alvin Hatmaker and daughter, Virginia of near Hallsville were guests. Members were Mrs. Ida Defenbaugh, Mrs. Martha Harmon, Mrs. Maude Devault, Mrs. Froma Dumm, Mrs. Della Sells, Mrs. Della Haynes, Mrs. Lily DeLong Mrs. Ruby Drum, Rev and Mrs. O. W. ## WASHINGTON C. H. WATER LOSES SUPPLY OF LIME

WASHINGTON C. H., Feb. 17.—The city water supply has lost most of its recent lime content.

For eight months, deep wells in the Niagara limestone provided the water supply which has had such a heavy lime content that a single drop on glass left a pronounced deposit.

Recent rains have filled the reservoir on Paint creek and now the supply is being pumped from large but shallow wells, where the water supply is filtered through sand and the supply is almost "soft".

GASOLINE EXCISE FUND SENT TO CITY, COUNTY

Pickaway County became $16,000 richer Saturday when the state distributed on Friday $2,838,261 from the gasoline excise fund. It hasn't been determined what the City of Circleville will draw from the fund.

Each county received $10,000 and $400 went to each township. The remainder of the money is distributed among the municipalities.

TEETS' TRUCK TAGGED

DELINQUENT TAX GROUP STUDIES STATE PROBLEM

Short Returns After Confab Conducted During Week In Cleveland

USE OF NEW ACT CITED

Commissioners Have Right To Name Assessment Committee

County Auditor Forrest Short has returned home after attending an important meeting in Cleveland during which the delinquent tax situation in the state was discussed by the Ohio Delinquent Tax Commission of which he is a member. The meeting was conducted in the Cuyahoga County courthouse.

Members of the Commission are seeking means of relieving the delinquent tax situation.

The tax payer's complaint has been that there are assessments placed on improved property which are higher than the actual value of the land. The result has been a stalemate on building on these improved lands and allowing the installed utilities to go unused while the land which has been cut into lots is unusable for farming, Short said.

Discussion of the feasibility of the application of Senate Bill 235 which was passed by the legislature in June, 1939 was the focal point of the auditors' meeting.

Up to Commissioners

The bill allows each county board of commissioners to appoint an assessment board which may lower the assessment on real estate on the promise of the land owner to build on that land. The question that hinders the application of the bill is its constitutionality.

To this end the Cuyahoga county prosecutor is bringing suit against the county auditor in the Supreme Court as a test case. The result of the court's decision may shape the policy of the 88 boards of county commissioners in appointing such assessment boards.

There was no feeling of unanimity among the members, some disagreeing over its application. Many felt that it should not be used, others favored it and the rest remained indifferent. The opinion was expressed that, although it may be useful, the bill and its application does not completely remedy the situation, the auditor declared.

A statement was made at the meeting that the delinquent tax of Cuyahoga County alone was as much as $38,000,000.

Other members of the commission are Representative Charles Frank, Summit County; Representative W. D. Burgett, Dorset; Representative William Hudlet, Cleveland; Senator Tom Jones, Middleport, and Senator Fred G. Reiners, Cincinnati.

BEEF PRICES OF 1777

WEYMOUTH, Mass., — Beef could be purchased at six and eight cents a pound—back in 1777. Grass fed beef in those days brought 3d (about six cents), while stall fed beef brought the higher figure, (4d).

Miss Viola Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutchinson of Circleville Rt. 4, underwent an appendicitis operation Saturday in Berger Hospital.

James Garvey of Williamsport and Dorman Boyer of Circleville Rt. 2 had their tonsils removed Saturday in Berger Hospital.

TAGS ON CAR GET NEW HOLLANDER IN TROUBLE

William Reese, New Holland, tried to avoid capture Friday night by the State Highway Patrol who wanted him for operating a motor vehicle with license plates issued to another car. When Reese saw Patrolman H. O. MacAdams in New Holland approaching his Ford car which bore the plates issued to a Chevrolet, he abandoned the automobile and fled.

MacAdams caught him a short time later and at first Reese denied any knowledge of the car or the plates. He later admitted that he never had the plates transferred. Further investigation brought to light that he had never registered for a driver's license.

He was assessed the minimum fine of $50 as allowed by state law and was remanded to the county jail on failure to pay. His hearing was in a New Holland court.

Coast Batteries Raided

Suffering heavy losses, the western wing of the Russian army also strove to silence the Finnish coastal batteries at Koivisto — one of the strongest factors in Finnish resistance.

Artillery at Koivisto repeatedly has frustrated Red army efforts to swing across the Gulf of Finland on the ice and attack the Finns from behind the Mannerheim Line.

Finnish airplanes retaliated to past Russian air attacks by bombing the Viborg-Leningrad railroad on Russian territory, setting several stations afire.

DEMS OF STATE IN CONFERENCE

Some party leaders expressed doubt whether Sen. Vic Donahey would agree to serve as "favorite son" if the delegation is pledged to a third term for President Roosevelt.

Such a move, they pointed out, would make Senator Donahey a "stalking horse" for the President, a move to which he strongly objected when State Chairman Arthur L. Limbach announced recently the delegation would be pledged to a third term with Donahey as "favorite son."

Charles Sawyer, national committeeman and unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate two years ago, said he would announce at today's meeting whether he would be a candidate for governor this year.

"We didn't indorse any candidates as it is contrary to the constitution of the Young Democratic Club to make such indorsements prior to a primary. We will, however, indorse certain candidates after the primary is over."

The present officers of the club are Dr. E. L. Montgomery, president; Byron Eby, vice president; Harriet Mason, secretary-treasurer.

BOARD OF ASSISTANCE HEARS REPORTS, TALKS

One hundred and fifty children of 58 families and 39 blind received aid from the Board of Public Assistance during January, Miss Virginia Smith, secretary, reported at the regular monthly meeting of the board held Friday in Judge Lemuel Weldon's office.

Delos H. Marcy, county relief director, discussed "Ohio Relief Problems from the Viewpoint of Rural Counties". The remainder of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the relation between direct relief and aid to dependent children and aid to the blind.

Mrs. Clark Will, president of the board, was in charge of the meeting.

COUNTY UNCERTAIN IF IT WILL TAKE PRISONER

The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission will conditionally release on May 1 to Pickaway County authorities Clarence Elisnaugle who was sent to the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield from Ross County on a charge of forgery.

Elisnaugle was wanted in Pickaway County on a charge of non-support. It has not yet been determined here by Prosecuting Attorney George Gerhardt and Sheriff Charles Radcliff if he would be held to answer the charges against him.

If the Pickaway County authorities do not press the charges, Elisnaugle will be paroled June 1.

MEN TAKEN BY OCEAN RAIDER REACH SAFETY

(Prisoners landed from the Graf Spee in Montevideo described the Altmark as a "hell ship" on which the captives were treated badly.)

The admiralty announced today that it had ordered the British warships to enter neutral waters in search of the Altmark.

"It will be remembered," said an admiralty bulletin, "that the Admiral Graf Spee sank seven British merchant ships in the South Atlantic before Christmas. The officers were made prisoners aboard the Graf Spee and were tolerably treated.

"The seamen, on the other hand, were confined on the Altmark, which, according to reports by the British prisoners liberated from the Graf Spee, was armed with concealed guns.

"Between 300 and 400 British merchant seamen were held prisoners aboard this vessel, and on the evidence of those transferred from the Graf Spee and later rescued, grievous hardships and severities were inflicted on them."

"Since then the Altmark vanished on the seas. No trace of her could be found until she appeared February 15.

"She was moving down the Norwegian coast, taking advantage of its peculiar configuration, and endeavoring to convey these 300 to 400 British merchant seamen as captives through Norwegian territorial waters to confinement in Germany."

"Orders were given by the admiralty, with full authority of His Majesty's government, to enter neutral waters in search of the Altmark and rescue any prisoners found aboard."

BERLIN, Feb. 17 — Germany today prepared to charge Great Britain with flagrant violation of the international code for sea warfare, as a result of the Altmark incident, it was stated authoritatively.

The protest will be based on information received in Berlin saying that one of several British destroyers forcefully boarded the Altmark within a Norwegian fjord, killing and injuring a number of seamen in the resultant hand-to-hand melee, in spite of Norwegian intervention.

Authoritative quarters said the British action was the same as though a German submarine suddenly appeared in New York harbor and torpedoed the Queen Mary or Normandie.

It is not clear at present whether the Altmark was sunk or is being escorted across the North Sea.

In any case, Berlin authorities said, the affair is by no means ended.

DEMS GATHER JULY 15 MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 17.—Postmaster General James A. Farley today set July 15 for the opening of the National Democratic convention which will be held in Chicago.

G. O. P. TO MEET IN QUAKER CITY

West. One western G. O. P. leader, who would not allow his name to be mentioned because he is supporting a candidate other than Dewey, reported that the New York district attorney was gaining a lot of delegates in western states.

There also was considerable talk among committeemen about Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, Republican floor leader in the house, for a place on the G. O. P. ticket, possibly as vice-president. Told of it, Martin merely smiled. His friends said he would not be a candidate for that post.

Most of the party leaders wanted uninvited delegations sent to Philadelphia. Martin said that New England's bloc of 90 delegates would be uninvited, other than those from New Hampshire. The New Hampshire delegates, it was reported, will vote for their favorite son, Senator Styles Bridges, on the first ballot and then probably be released.

Philadelphia had a 67-30 landslide in the voting on the convention city. It bid about $250,000 in contrast to Chicago's bid of $125,000. Chicago had obtained the Democratic convention for the same sum but mainly because word had been spread that President Roosevelt favored that city in event he decided to seek a third term.
